Pine Hill Lakes saved at last

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The new developer for Pine Hill Lakes began repair work within the development last week and has given completion dates for the rest of the needed work.

"We feel a lot better now since we are getting positive feedback," a resident of Pine Hill Lakes said.

United Development Homes, Inc. has been on the job five days now and it has already completed pavement of driveways in Phase I and removed abandoned vehicles within the development. The work that still needs to be completed in Phases II and III is the installation of street lights. Paving street surfaces is still needed in Phases I and III and the removal of detention ponds in Phase III.

"I really feel I can fulfill the promises I have made by the homeowners' deadline of Sept. 14," Robert Straszewski, director of land development of United Development Home, Inc., said.

Straszewski said Commonwealth Edison will begin the installation of street lights once it receives a check from the bank, which NBD Bank of Evanston has already begun processing. The bank is also in the process of issuing a check for the funds that are needed to complete the walking paths.

United Development Homes has

'I really feel I can fulfill the promises I have made by the homeowners' deadline of Sept. 14,'—Robert Straszewski, director of land development for United Development Home, Inc.

committed to completing the pavement of streets in Phase I on or before Sept. 7. According to Straszewski, there is much needed work such as street cleaning and curb and gutter removal and replacement, before the original paving contractor can complete the job. Back filling of curbs will be completed by Aug. 20 and binding by Aug. 27. Straszewski said street surfacing should be completed by Sept. 10.

Half of the homes within the development still need to be connected to a sewer and United Development Homes said this project will also be completed by the Sept. 14 deadline.

Straszewski is unable to commit to a completion date on the retention problem throughout the development, until he contacts the village engineer and the Army Corp of Engineers, to find out the requirements for entering into the project.

He was also unable to address the completion of the landscaping throughout the development. Straszewski said he will be in contact with R.J.L. Landscaping, who had been scheduled to complete the seeding of the side and back yards and sodding of the front yards of homes.

Straszewski will be meeting with members of the Pine Hill Lakes

Homeowners Assn. early next week, once he obtains more background information so he can address these issues.

"I will confirm, at this time, that United Development Homes, Inc. will be finishing the whole development. We will be adding two to three models of our own within the development," Straszewski said.

United Development Homes has been in business for 25 years. It currently has 1,000 single family units in Algonquin. "It is because of our reputation the bank has selected us to complete the development," he said.

Parks Dept. offers school program

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

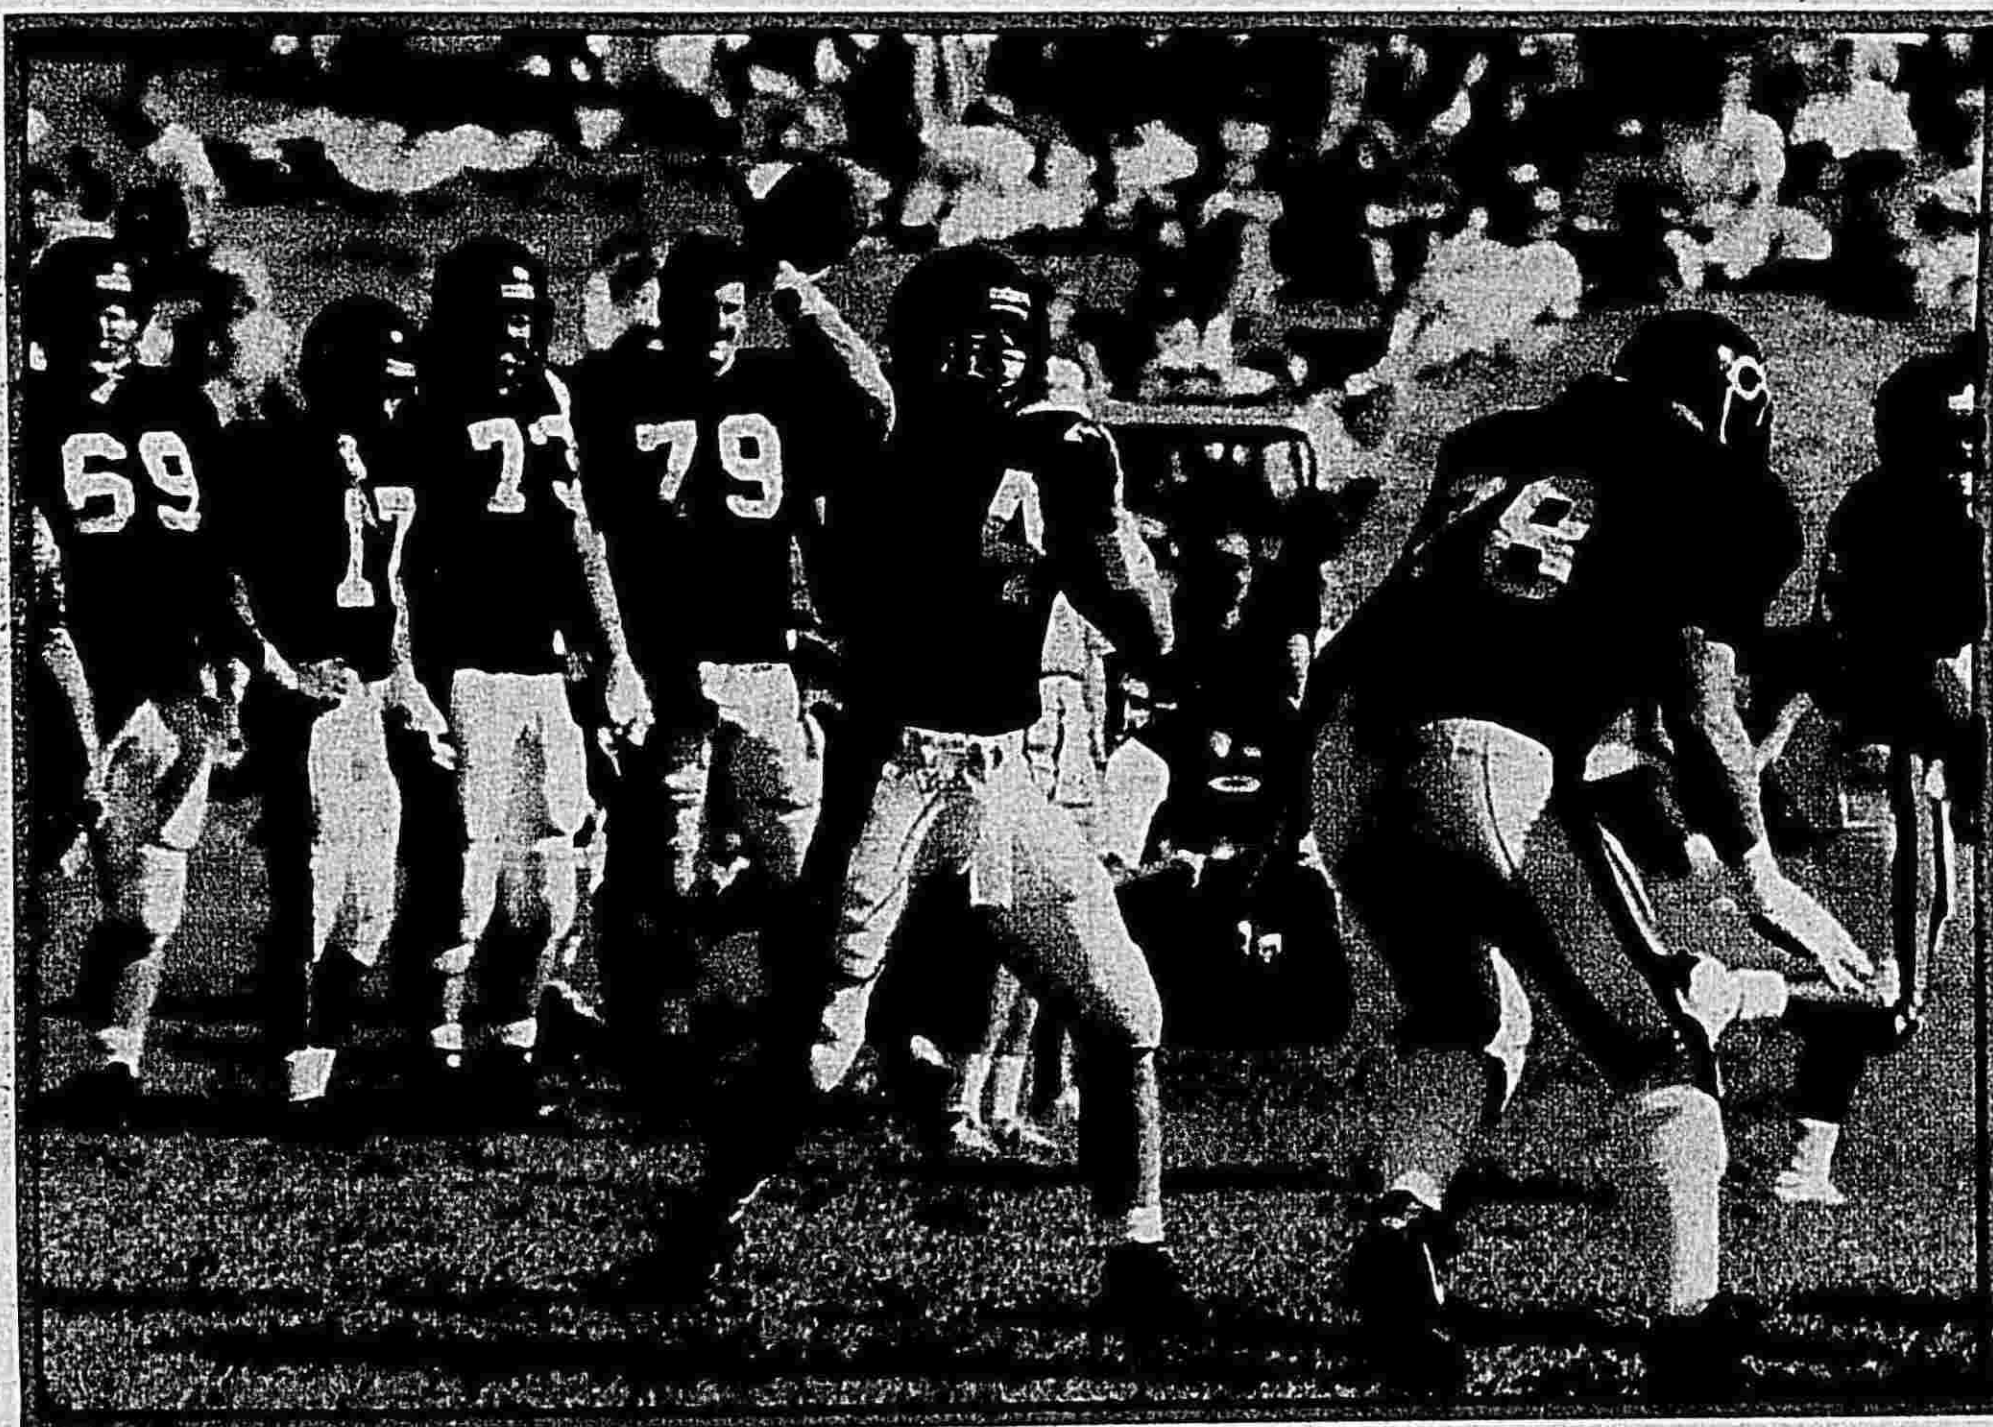

Antioch's Park and Recreation Dept. will be offering a before and after school program for children in Kindergarten through 6th grade.

"The program will cater to parents who work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. that need an extra hour to drop off or pick up their children due to traveling time," Theresa Weber, director of the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. said.

The parks and recreation department was given the okay to proceed with the program by the Antioch School Dist. 34 Board of Education Tuesday. The board of education has agreed to support the program by providing its facilities and will be rerouting the district's school buses to drop the children off for the program. Right now the parks and recreation department is planning on holding the program at the Antioch Lower Grade School, because of its central location.

The program, which will provide recreational activities for the children, will begin in the weekday mornings before school from 7-8:15 a.m. and will resume after school from 2:30-6 p.m. The park department will also offer all day programs, with some field trips, on institutional days and Christmas and Spring Break.

According to Weber, the program is scheduled to begin this September, if a director of the program can be employed by then. If not, the program will begin in January.

InTouch combats drug problem with prevention

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

The use of illegal drugs as well as underage drinking are at all time highs in the United States, but the state of Illinois is actively involved in trying to reduce these numbers.

Illinois is attacking the problems with a program called InTouch, which stands for the Illinois Network to Organize the Understanding of Community Health. The program is not a counseling program for drug users in rehabilitation; rather, it is an intense awareness project with the goal of preventing drug use.

"Our aim is to make whole communities aware of the drug and alcohol problems that exist so they can help each other not even become involved with drugs and alcohol in the first place," explains Micki Jones, InTouch prevention area coordinator. "Our motto is keeping healthy people healthy."

This means InTouch works heavily with school children and parents, training them to understand what problems children will encounter throughout their lives and preparing them to say no.

"We do lots of work in the schools, but

The Lake County InTouch staff is comprised of Tracy Fessler (from left), Micki Jones and Quin Gamble. The three work towards helping Lake County communities set up drug awareness and prevention programs to combat the growing drug and alcohol problem.

drugs if the opportunity arises," Jones says.

However, she emphasized that InTouch does not completely set up a program for the schools, parents or seniors to participate in. Rather, the InTouch coordinators assist these groups in setting up their own programs.

She also emphasized that each program is tailored to the needs of the group.

When assisting a group set up a program, the InTouch coordinators keep five strategies in mind.

First, they try to provide accurate alcohol and drug information. Second, they aim to develop success skills, such as self-esteem, decision making, problem solving and communication. Next, they try to suggest healthy alternatives that allow people to feel good about themselves. Fourth, the coordinators try to help the people formulate supportive social policy. And last, InTouch works to develop constituencies and training of key motivators, including parents, teachers, administrators, community leaders and peers.

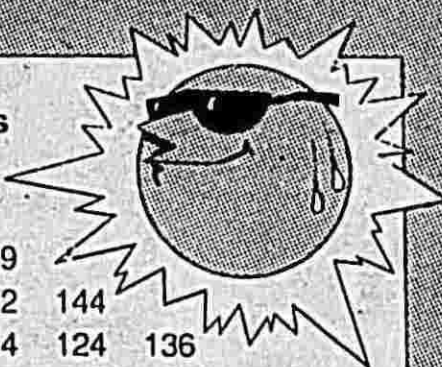

"We have learned by the increased drug use in the 1970s that providing drug education alone is not enough. That just resulted in educated drug users. That is we are becoming involved more and more with setting up parent networks so parents can feel comfortable raising their children in a world where some serious problems exist," Jones says.

InTouch was established in the state of Illinois in 1986 by the Illinois Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (DASA), Lt. Gov. George H. Ryan and the State Board of Education. DASA created 18 prevention service areas, which coordinate statewide linkages between prevention resources.

The entire county of Lake is one prevention service area. The agencies that work together with the Lake County InTouch program are the Lake County Health Dept., the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse and the College of Lake County.

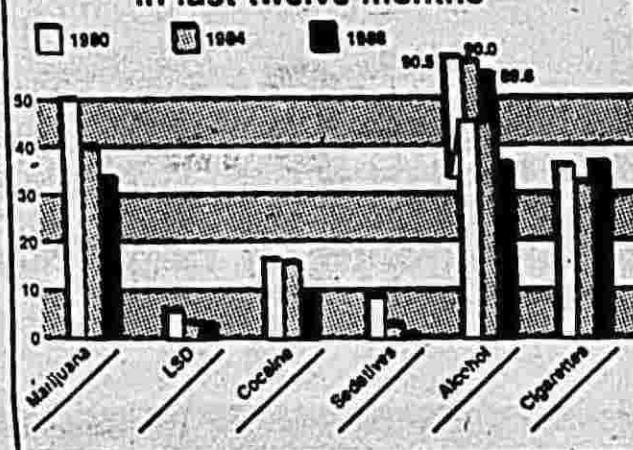

Although the Lake County InTouch program employs three full-time staff members, teams of students, parents, educators and community groups work together to create local action plans for prevention programs.

Jones, Associate InTouch Coordinator Quin Gamble and InTouch's Communication Specialist Tracy Fessler organize such prevention programs as Operation Snowball and Snowflake, parent community networks and senior citizen groups.

"What we do at these programs is help people of the community or students develop relationships with each other so they feel they can handle dealing with

why we developed four additional strategies," Jones explains.

The four years InTouch has been in operation have been very successful, Jones says, but she stresses InTouch can do so much more if people are aware of their services.

"It is important for people to know we are here for them. We want to stop problems before they start, but we need community members to take the step to institute networks in their neighborhoods," Jones emphasizes.

Therefore, she encourages anyone who is interested in learning more about InTouch and what it has to offer to call the Lake County office located on College of Lake County's campus at (708) 223-6363.

Village board asks mayor to apologize

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Village Board trustees are calling upon Mayor Robert Wilton to publicly apologize to village employees.

Mayor Wilton stated at the Aug. 6 village board meeting, "Talking about wasting taxpayers' dollars. We probably have 60 employees at this point, and I'm around here to see what is going on. I bet we waste in non-productive performance, at least an hour to an hour and a half, on an average, per employee, per day."

He continued, "Talk about wasting taxpayers' dollars, you better look at your village. I bet we waste a $1,000 a day in wasted salaries."

The mayor's quote was his response against an allegation that was verbally stated to him by Charles Smith, Police Chief Charles Miller's attorney. Smith accused Wilton of wasting more taxpayers' dollars by rejecting Chief Miller's suit settlement.

'We sincerely hope that Mayor Wilton will publicly apologize for his thoughtless remarks,'—Antioch Village Board trustees.

Trustees Marilyn Shineflug, Mabel Lou Weber, Donald Amundsen and Ronald Cunningham signed a statement in support of the village employees and presented it to the mayor.

A portion of the statement reads, "We wish to show our support for our village employees' efforts to do their jobs competently and efficiently...we sincerely hope that Mayor Wilton will publicly apologize for his thoughtless remarks."

Wilton commented, "Trustee Shineflug is trying to do anything to make me look bad. I was commenting on a few village employees. After all, there are non-productive workers in any business."

"Bob Wilton is making himself look bad by the thoughtless and outrageous nature of his own remarks. His accusations against the village employees are unfair and undocumented, just as his complaints against Chief Miller were unfair and undocumented," Trustee Shineflug said.

The village hall received an anonymous letter, postmarked Aug. 13, that was address to village employees. The letter condemned the mayor for his remark about village employees.

The letter stated, "Isn't it a shame that our mayor has chosen to criticize the village employees when they have been working hard for the village? Maybe village employees should go to the next village board meeting on Aug. 20 and ask the mayor why and ask for an apology."

It should be an interesting board meeting since Mayor Wilton said he is prepared to back up his remark at a later date.

Trustee Shineflug said, "I hope Bob will be willing to work with the rest of the board to find solutions to put these matters behind us. The Village of Antioch deserves better."

Lake Villa volunteer fireman injured in Antioch accident

A Lake Villa volunteer fireman was severely injured Monday afternoon when an Illinois Bell truck, which he was standing near, was struck by a vehicle.

According to Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller, Raymond McCollum and Thomas Bradley, both of whom are Illinois Bell employees and residents of Lake Villa, had been repairing a utility pole on the west side of Rte. 59, by Bayview Dr. in Antioch, just before the accident occurred.

McCollum was standing near the rear of the truck and Bradley was standing in front of the truck when Kerry Bennett, 21, who was traveling southbound on Rte. 59, veered off onto the shoulder and struck the Illinois Bell vehicle injuring McCollum.

McCollum was critically injured and was flown by Flight for Life to Milwaukee County Medical Complex, where he is in the intensive care unit. Hospital officials said McCollum is in satisfactory condition, but it is too soon to tell when he will be released. Bradley refused treatment, because he suffered minor bumps and bruises.

Bennett, also of Lake Villa, was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident. Bennett was taken to St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan and is reported to be in good condition by hospital officials. His car is reported as being "totaled."

Pilgrim Award

Richard Jorgensen was honored by the Antioch Moose Lodge 525 and was awarded with the Pilgrim Degree, which is the highest award given by the Moose fraternity, for his 27 years of service to the fraternity. Besides serving as governor of the lodge from 1967-68, Jorgensen has attained elected and appointed offices over 18 years and has been chairman for many projects. Teen attempts to steal gym shoes off of a woman's feet

Over the weekend a teenage attempted to steal a pair of gym shoes right off of a woman's feet in the parking lot of the Jewel Food Store in Antioch.

Antioch police officials said the boy went up to the woman and asked her to take off her gym shoes. When she refused the boy threatened her with a pocket knife. The woman immediately ran back into the Jewel.

A Jewel employee, after being informed of the ordeal that had just happened, ran out after the youth, but was unsuccessful in apprehending him.

The police have no suspects at this time. The teen was described as being Caucasian, with blondish brown hair at shoulder length and wearing a heavy metal t-shirt. The woman was wearing a pair of $60 gym shoes.

Chamber of Commerce joins the war against drugs

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a drug and alcohol free workplace program.

"The purpose of the program is to educate businesses in what can be done if an employee has a drug or alcohol problem, what is legal or illegal, and to inform them of rehabilitation programs that are available to employees. This is an effort to make the work place environment safer and more enjoyable to work in and to save businesses money," Jack Thelen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

Local community businesses are being asked by the Chamber of Commerce to participate in the program by signing a drug and alcohol free work place agreement. The agreement asks that a business set up a company policy which prohibits the use of drugs and alcohol within the workplace and to periodically inform employees of the policy.

Upon signing the agreement, the business is agreeing to inform employees of assistance programs that are available to them and their families and relatives. The employer will also be responsible for learning more about the effects of drugs and dollars a year in losses," Thelen said. He attributes these large monetary losses to loss of work days by employees, loss of hours, lower production and greater accident ratio, which causes insurance rates to increase.

'This is an effort to make the workplace environment safer and more enjoyable to work in and to save businesses money,' Jack Thelen said, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

alcohol and updating employees on these facts.

The Chamber would also like for businesses to commit to visually demonstrating to the young people within the community that local businesses will not tolerate the abuse and misuse of drugs and alcohol within the workplace.

"Drug and alcohol abuse is costing American businesses over 170 billion

"We hope this program will unite the efforts of the high school, the drug task force and local businesses to reduce the abuse and misuse of drugs within Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. Hopefully, this will lead over to the county, state and national efforts," Thelen said.

The Board of Directors of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce is hosting a "Drug & Alcohol Free Workplace" luncheon for those businesses who are participating in the war against drugs and alcohol Aug. 29 at the Antioch Golf Club. This will be an informational luncheon that will set guidelines to help businesses provide programs and policies against the use of drugs. Those employers who will be unable to attend the meeting, will still be able to receive the information by contacting the Chamber of Commerce.

According to Thelen, the Chamber of Commerce is currently planning additional events and programs to get area businesses involved in this war against drugs and alcohol.

Bonnie Henning is independent four-year-old

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Proud Parents

Remember how long it took you to teach your son or daughter how to ride a two wheel bicycle? In most cases it takes weeks, if not months, of walking beside the child who is shakily perched on the bike seat, grasping the fender or seat to help him balance. This is accompanied with a constant reminder that the child "must" keep his eyes on the road ahead and not worry about if and when you might release your grip from the bicycle. You had to make your skeptical student confident that you would not let him fall and that he would be able to learn, providing he keeps those eyes focused and weight balanced. In the beginning the task at hand seems to be an impossible one to both the child and parent. However, step by step, little by little, with enough patience, practice, and guidance, the child emerges victorious and is eventually able to pilot the bicycle on his own.

Then the next step is the timely process of teaching the child to start out on his own without your assistance. After a few spills the new bike rider also learns how to begin his journey down the block without anyone's help. Well, there are two parents in our community who did not get the opportunity to teach their daughter how to ride a bicycle.

While camping with friends, four-year-old, Bonnie Henning, taught herself how to ride a bike with no parental, or any guidance at all. She simply experimented a few times on the bicycle of a playmate and then alerted her parents, Cheryl and Wally Henning, of her big accomplishment. Congratulations, Bonnie, really enjoy writing this column. However, when I have to "repeatedly" write about my friends who are becoming "grandparents," then I am not so sure that I have chosen the right channel is a big slough area. On occasion, one or both of our dogs will swim over to the slough and roam around in the tall grasses.

On this particular afternoon, Andrew went across along. He was only there a few seconds when he started to scream and yelp. At first I thought it was his normal hunting screeches, then I realized he was in trouble. Bertha did too and she quickly leaped into the water and began swimming to help her pal. By the time she reached him, he had freed himself from the critter or whatever trapped him in the water. Bertha swam at his side all the way back and every now and then she licked him on the snout as if to say "it's okay, I'm right here." She continued to hover close by him even after he was safely out of the water.

We examined him for a wound but could find nothing. However, he limped around on three legs for about 15 minutes and after that seemed to be fine. We not only consoled Andrew, but Bertha looked mighty proud as we kept telling her she was such a good girl to go to Andrew's aid. Naturally, we rewarded her with an extra special doggie treat and Andrew seemed to approve of that. Some people will refer to that as loyalty. I really think these two dogs love each other like brother and sister, step brother and sister that is!

Oops

That's it, Liz. Wish all of Antioch a happy August birthday and forget to include your two daughters in that list. Keeping in mind that it is better late than never, I'd like to say happy August 16th birthday to my daughter, Donna Schmehl, and happy August 18th birthday to Barbara Filips. Sorry kids, hopefully I'll do better next time!

Try Again

In case you've had a hard time contacting me this past week or so, it is because I was on vacation. So if you have a tidbit to share, but couldn't catch me, try again. Remember to let it ring long enough for me to get out of the pool or turn off the lawn mower.

Air command

Airman 1st Class David Grubich recently participated in the Strategic Air Command exercise, Global Shield 90. The exercise tested the readiness of SAC units around the world on carrying out orders which support the United States national policy. Grubich is the son of Judy and Joe Grubich and a 1988 graduate from Antioch High School.

Teens caught breaking and entering into grade school

Two Antioch teenagers were arrested Monday night for allegedly braking and entering and causing damage to William C. Petty Grade School.

Robert Carlson, 17, was arrested and charged with criminal trespassing and criminal damage to property.

The other boy, who is 16 years old, has been released into custody of his parents and is still is awaiting juvenile court.

According to Police Chief Charles Miller, the two boys entered the school through the skylight, which set off a silent alarm at about 7 p.m., informing the police station of their presence within the building.

profession. Just kidding, of course! Granted, I do nag my "three" daughters every now and then about make me a granny. Never-the-less, I do celebrate the joy of my friends when so blessed. Bob and Elaine Lasky of Antioch are very excited over becoming prospective grandparents for the first time and I'm excited for them. Their daughter, Melinda Sweeney, and her husband, Larry, are expecting their first bundle of joy in January. Knowing Elaine, she is probably already in the market for special baby items to have on hand when Melinda and Larry visit her with little baby Sweeney. I even think that Melinda may be able to twist Elaine's arm to babysit on occasion. Am I right, Elaine? Congratulations to Bob and Elaine, Melinda and Larry, and also Auntie Carol Lasky. Now I consider that pretty good coverage, seeing as I am "green" with envy! Incidentally, garage sales are big on baby items. If asked, I could be persuaded to go with you some Saturday.

SMPC watershed boards meet

The four Watershed Management Boards of Lake County's Stormwater Management Planning Committee (SMPC) were recently brought together for an orientation meeting describing their responsibilities at the College of Lake County.

"There's no question we have a stormwater problem in Lake County; now we have a vehicle to deal with it," said Gurnee Mayor and SMPC Chairman Richard Welton. He said the turnout of 50 people at the meeting was an indication of county residents' and officials' interest in stormwater issues.

The meeting represented the first step towards the implementation of the county's Comprehensive Stormwater Plan, which was formally adopted by the Lake County Board July 11. The watershed boards will advise SMPC on capital improvement, maintenance and planning project priorities, as well as financial and budgetary decisions for their respective watersheds.

The watershed boards are comprised of chief elected officials or designated alternates from each community, township, drainage district and county board district in the four watersheds that make up Lake County. The four watersheds include: the Des Plaines River, the Fox River, the North Branch of the Chicago River, and Lake Michigan. Because watersheds are defined by topographical rather than political boundaries, some townships and municipalities are represented on more than one board. The number of representatives on each board ranges from 19 to 40.

Following introductory remarks by Welton, the SMPC staff presented the group with a brief overview of the stormwater plan's development, SMPC's organizational framework, the role foreseen for the boards, and a preliminary look at some of the key issues in each watershed. After the presentation, the meeting broke into individual watershed gatherings, allowing the representatives to meet one another and discuss local issues with SMPC staff.

The watershed boards will meet quarterly beginning in October. Separate meetings will be held for each of the four groups.

Dist. 116 would rather switch than fight

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

Round Lake Unit School Dist. 116 has decided not to fight Bob Boness' appeal for placing his referendum on the ballot this fall. The referendum is on whether or not the school district will be allowed to issue bonds totalling over $3 million to pay for teacher's orders.

Dist. 116 filed public notice that it intended to issue the bonds, and Boness obtained what he said was 1,000 signatures on a petition to have the issue placed on the public ballot for voting. An objection to the petition was filed by Ila Bauer, a district employee and resident of the Round Lake Area School Dist., and the matter was brought before an election board made up of school board members David Adler, Maggie Biddenstadt and David Wiltberger. They upheld the objections to the petition, and Boness filed an appeal in Lake County Circuit Court. The board voted to hire an attorney to represent their interests in this case and then decided only this week not to fight the matter, but to allow the referendum to appear on the ballot.

The difficulty at the moment is that the money paid to the teachers is due to the bank, and they would like payment as soon as possible. The school district said it cannot afford to wait until a fall referendum to pay back the bank. The loan must be paid back within the next few months.

Plans now call for issuing tax anticipation warrants. This is tax money that is due the school in the future. It will be given to the school district now, however, and therefore will not be available when it would have normally come to the district.

David Adler's comment on the tax anticipation warrants was, "Now the dog starts chasing his tail. In other words, we're going to start borrowing money to pay back the money we borrowed to pay back money that we borrowed, etc., etc."

"I guess you might say," said Bob Hubka, "what we are doing is mortgaging our future. But are we?"

"We've got some money right now that we could have used when all this came up. Originally we needed $2.8 million to back the teacher's orders. We had $2.4 million in working cash. We could have taken a million dollars of that and used it toward what we needed and we could have gone to tax anticipation warrants for the $1.4 remainder."

"But we didn't do that, and with interest charges and handling fees on the money we borrowed from the bank, now it's up over $3 million and we can't just do that now."

"What we are doing is borrowing from the future, and you have to make up that money, somehow. I keep showing them (the other school board members) the future and it keeps on hitting them in the face six months down the road," was Hubka's final comment.

Thompson, Fisher will discuss anti-drug efforts

North Chicago Mayor Bobby Thompson and Police Chief Ernest Fisher will be special guests on the Chicago Medical School Reports program, "Drug Abuse in North Chicago," to be broadcast Sunday, Aug. 19, over radio stations WXLG (102.3 FM) from 6 to 6:30 a.m. and on WKRS (1220 AM) from 9:20 to 9:50 a.m. and from 12:20 to 12:50 p.m.

This program will focus on what has become "everyone's problem," the use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol. North Chicago, as a community, has taken a number of steps toward dealing with this problem.

One step is in the area of law enforcement through arrests of drug dealers. Both guests urge that citizens become aware of their neighborhoods - and to report any suspicious activity to police. Indeed, in many cases police can only become involved when a citizen makes a complaint. Fisher assures that all calls will be held confidential, and that the caller need not give his or her name.

Another step was taken back in 1986 with the organization of North Chicago Citizens Against Drug and Alcohol Abuse (CADAA), one of the first programs of its kind in the country. This organization brings together representatives from industry, the clergy, schools, medicine, government, the U.S. Navy, the Veterans Administration, and other important community organizations in the fight against drug and alcohol abuse through education and motivation.

Both Mayor Thompson and Chief Fisher encourage the continued support of CADAA programs, and hope that other communities will take similar action in their respective areas.

Round Lake man arrested for sexual abuse

David E. Kick, 33, of 34175 Hainesville Rd., Round Lake, was arrested on a warrant for criminal sexual abuse, at MDA Scientific Research, 405 Barclay, Lincolnshire, at 6:43 p.m. on Aug. 7. Kick was unable to post bond and was taken to the Lake County Jail.

Grayslake police are continuing an arson investigation following approximately $8,000 worth of damage to a tanker truck belonging to Skokie Valley Asphalt, at 700 S. Lake St. in Grayslake. The damage took place on Aug. 8.

Craig J. Dawson, 33, of 34111 N. Homestead Rd., Gurnee, was arrested on a warrant for battery at 2:49 p.m. on Aug. 6. Dawson was released after posting 10 percent of a $1,000 bond.

Kenneth R. Carlson, 20, of 375 Alta Dr., Grayslake, was arrested and charged with D.U.I., D.U.I. over 10 percent or more, driving while license suspended, and operation of a vehicle with unsafe equipment. Carlson was arrested at 12:59 a.m. at Rte. 120 and Neville Dr. in Grayslake. He failed the field sobriety test and had a blood alcohol content of .23. Carlson was released on a personal recognition bond.

Indians break Zion hex, aim for Shoreline title

Five proved to be the magic number for the Gurnee Indians in the Shoreline League Playoffs against Zion.

Four times, including an earlier playoff loss, the Indians faced the Dill Brothers only to come up short. But on Monday, the Indians prevailed 3-1 to advance to the title round against Chicago Americans Saturday at Bowen Park in Waukegan. The Americans are unbeaten in the tournament and the Indians have that one loss to Zion, so the Indians must win twice to claim the first-ever Shoreline League title.

"That was the first game against them in which we had good pitching," Indians Manager Chris Stranowicz said of the win over Zion.

Vince Gawrecki was the winning pitcher for Gurnee, striking out eight and walking three in a three-hit performance.

Gurnee spotted Zion a 1-0 lead in the third inning at Faulker Field, but quickly recovered, scoring all three runs in its half of the inning. Mike Galdine singled, stole second and scored on an RBI single by Joe Vocke to tie the game. Bill Stranowicz and Rob Winkinson singled and Bill Stranowicz scored on a pass ball to account for the two runs.

Earlier in the tourney, Gurnee had lost to Zion 8-1.

Gurnee notched a 6-1 win over Hillside as Steve Jarrell was the winning pitcher. He had a four strikeouts, a walk and a four-hit performance. Bill Stranowicz had a double as did Vocke and Winkinson. Scott Lyman had three RBIs.

Vocke was the winning pitcher in a 6-2 win which eliminated Lincolnshire. He struck out six and walked nobody in the contest.

Brad Dodge had a first-inning home run. Bill Stranowicz was two-for-three as well as Lyman, who had two RBIs. Gurnee outthit the Royals 9-5.

To Pick Officers

The Gurnee Boys Baseball organization will select new officers when it meets at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 25 at In-Laws restaurant in Gurnee. Terry Yordt has served as president last year and more than 800 boys participated in various levels.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What is glaucoma? Can it cause blindness?

ANSWER: Glaucoma results from excessive pressure on the optic nerve in the back of the eye, created by excessive build-up of the natural fluid inside the eye. It's the second leading cause of blindness among people over the age of 40. Fortunately, with early diagnosis and treatment this problem can, almost always be controlled and blindness prevented.

The fluid keeps the eye from collapsing. As fresh fluid is produced, the excess drains out through a meshwork of tissue. If this drainage path is blocked, pressure builds and begins to damage the optic nerve which carries visual images from the eye to the brain. Gradually, peripheral or side vision is lost. Eventually the glaucoma victim can only see straight ahead through "tunnel vision." Over time all sight may be lost. Previous damage cannot be reversed but when glaucoma is diagnosed it can be treated with eye drops or medication. If this is not successful, laser surgery may be used to open up the tissue to provide proper fluid drainage.

Emergency plan panel gains public awareness

The group meets at the start of each month.

Most of its members attend most of the meetings, but the majority of the topics are something that people do not want to discuss. For the Lake County Emergency Planning Committee (LCEPC) is one group which hopes its efforts will not have to be used.

"I'd say three-fourths to 80 percent of our members attend meetings," Evelyn Alexander said.

Alexander, who is administrative assistant to North Chicago Mayor Bobby Thompson, served as chairman of the LCEPC for its first two years.

"Our main problem for the two years were funds, we did not have any," Alexander said.

Alexander and the various committees did eventually convince the Lake County Board to give the LCEPC a budget and now the group is in the process of hiring staff. "We need someone to do the day-to-day work. All of us on the committee have daytime jobs," Alexander said.

The budget calls for $11,736 to be spent in personnel costs from June to December. The annual cost would be $34,186 and that would rise to $57,496 on 1992.

A job description for the chemical and nuclear emergency planner, for example, lists the following tasks: under the daily supervision of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. of Emergency Services; works closely with Emergency Services Division, Local Emergency Planning Committee, fire departments in the establishment and maintenance of the Countywide Hazardous Materials and IPRA Plans and would coordinate requests for information under the Federal Community Right to Know Act.

Alexander said this act gives communities the right to know what kind of chemicals companies have in their plants.

A wide variety of members make up the LCEPC. Fire department representatives are combined with law enforcement, local government leaders, business and news media representatives. Michael Eaton of St. Therese Medical Center is the current chairman.

Committees include budget, plan development, compliance, goals, membership, program-training, public relations and resources.

Meeting the first Wednesday of each month at Lake County Emergency Services Dept. headquarters in Libertyville. Items discussed in July included that an agreement among fire chiefs has been reached that fire chiefs will identify all regulated facilities in their district and then identify any schools, nursing homes, or hospitals in a two-mile radius.

Alexander said the committee was involved in assisting in the 1988 explosion at Traco, Inc. in North Chicago.

PMS sufferers can find help at special clinic

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

Women suffering from pre-menstrual syndrome (PMS) may be able to find help through a newly developed clinic offered by Neuropsych.

The clinic, which has just gotten off the ground, gives women the opportunity to examine their mental and physical health, to consider their medical history and to meet with fellow sufferers for support.

Dr. Merry Miller, the psychiatrist who operates the clinic, explains the process patients can expect to go through.

"First, we do a complete evaluation of the patient. We do a psychiatric evaluation for PMS symptoms and then psychological testing. Then we examine their medical history," she explained.

The process usually takes a month because the Miller likes to be thorough, as well as offer the patient time to chart their symptoms over the course of a month.

"Sometimes what the patient is suffering from is not PMS at all. It could be something else, such as anxiety, depression or marital problems. That is why we thoroughly examine the patient - we want them to get the correct care," she said.

PMS is defined as a disorder consisting of an assortment of physical and emotional symptoms that predictably occur prior to the menstrual period and resolve shortly after the menstrual period occurs. These symptoms may disrupt family life, social life, work or school.

Therefore, if a patient is diagnosed as suffering from something other than PMS, the patient is referred to other counselling and medical treatments through the Neuropsych office.

If the patient is diagnosed as suffering from PMS, however, the patient begins with group therapy, which meets once a week.

"The group is a support group that offers education for non-medical treatment, such as proper nutrition, lifestyles and exercise," Miller said.

The patient also begins with medical aid and therapy, if recommended.

"There is not a simple cure for PMS," Miller explains. "It is a set of problems that must be dealt with on an individual basis. PMS has only been focused on in a psychiatric sense in the last 10 years, and many treatments have been tried but many don't hold up. I study these treatments and try to combine them."

Miller has been working in the clinic for the past 10 months by researching and studying other clinics.

"There are no other physician-run clinics like this in the Lake County area. The nearest one is in Chicago. I saw there was a need for this type of clinic so I decided to work on starting one," she said.

For more information on the PMS clinic or any of the services offered by Neuropsych, call its Libertyville office at (708) 367-1611.

WHAT'S WRONG AT THE NEWS-SUN?

Why are News-Sun employees urging readers to pledge to cancel their News-Sun subscriptions?

Why are News-Sun employees urging shoppers to stay away from News-Sun advertisers?

News-Sun workers in Waukegan, Libertyville and Lake Villa have been struggling to win a fair contract from Copley Press, the California owner of the newspapers, for two years.

Last April, Copley Press representatives walked out of contract talks with its employees, members of Local 71 of The Newspaper Guild (AFL-CIO).

The company walked out despite major employee concessions and despite the fact that progress was being made.

Although employees haven't had a pay raise in more than 2 years, wages were never a major issue in negotiations. Employees agreed to most of the company's major demands for "flexibility." Yet talks were unilaterally broken off by the company. The Guild believes Copley is trying to force a strike to break The Newspaper Guild at The News-Sun.

The day after walking out, Copley imposed new working conditions that reduced employee benefits, allowed the company to invade the private lives of employees and opened the way to eliminate full-time journalists.

We believe the imposed conditions will seriously reduce the quality of The News-Sun.

The Lake County Board and the Waukegan City Council both have urged Copley to return to the bargaining table and start negotiating in a fair way.

Employees are now seeking News-Sun reader support in this struggle. We are asking News-Sun subscribers to fill out the following form and mail it to The Newspaper Guild. The form authorizes cancellation of your News-Sun subscription, if necessary.

Phony Nazi charge

Some name calling in the tight election for Illinois governor is to be expected, but charges of Nazism is one epithet that wasn't anticipated.

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino, a Democrat who would like to succeed Sec. of State James Edgar, the Republican nominee for governor, hurled the charge of Nazism at Edgar in connection with a plan to let Illinois residents report relatives for possible driver's license revocation.

At present, only judges, police officers and physicians can request the Sec. of State to summon a driver for a road or eye test to determine whether the driver is unfit due to old age or poor health.

The state gets requests like this all the time, but can't do anything about them. The requests are made honestly and sincerely, with only the best interests of the person involved at heart. But to Cosentino the plan sounds like tattling or the informing that goes on in a dictatorship.

Phooey. We think the Sec. of State's office can use all the helpful information it can get. The Edgar plan, up before the legislator's Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, might save not only one life, but two lives---the life of the driver in question and the life of someone they might kill because of their inability to operate a motor vehicle safely.

Cosentino should forget about Nazis and other assorted bogeymen. If he wants to be helpful, he should get on the Sec. of State's practice of winking at old-timers unfit to drive who are allowed to take driving tests two or three times until they pass.

'Top Off' plan eyed as stern price reaction

by BILL SCHROEDER

An ex-Marine with two Purple Hearts has come forward with as good a suggestion as I've heard on how angry motorists can deal with the price gouging tactics of heartless oil companies taking advantage of the Middle East war threat.

Bob Klug outlined a tactic of purchasing gasoline at least three times a week rather than the common weekly fill-up for the typical driver. Klug, who still possesses the combative spirit of the Leathernecks, says this would be a positive expression of protest by clogging the pump lanes and affording consumers an opportunity to jaw bone attendants and station owners about the unconscionable price increases.

"The only cost will be our time. The already too high gasoline won't cost a cent more, but I'm sure oil companies will get a message," declared Klug, a resident of Antioch who has a real estate business in Lindenhurst. Klug said he has talked over his plan with neighbors and fellow veterans, and everyone thinks it's a good idea.

"When we fill up, we're storing a lot of gasoline in our car tanks. Let's go to the station at least three times a week," exclaimed Klug, who fought in Korea. Klug reasons that the oil companies won't be too happy about lines at the pumps and attendants doing three times as much work for the same sales.

A chain reaction starting in this area and spreading across the county would have a dramatic impact, Klug is certain. For a guy who normally runs the tank down to fumes before refilling, Klug's plan gives me pause to reflect. Why not make more frequent trips to the gasoline station? Paying for top offs sure would take away the sting of what the bandits are charging today.

BLOOD BUS---LifeSource, a joint venture of the American Red Cross and the Blood Center of Northern Illinois providing blood services to nearly 60 hospitals, has a new six-bed luxury motorcoach designed for blood collections. "Now we can come to you," exclaimed Susan Stuttle, managing director of donor services. The coach will be visiting shopping malls, summer festivals, etc., anywhere large crowds gather. Donors receive a free cholesterol screening. They must be between the ages of 17 and 75 and weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. Connie Gardiner at (708) 298-9660 can supply information about how the mobile blood center and visit your area.

Work place model

There are encouraging signs in the business community of a determination to do something about the problem of drug use in the work place. Motorola Inc., with a plant in Grayslake and a facility scheduled for construction in Libertyville, made a landmark move with its well publicized random drug testing policy.

Now the Antioch Area Chamber of Commerce has initiated a contractual agreement to get members to participate in supporting drug and alcohol free work places. By signing an agreement, Antioch area businesses agree to join in awareness programs, investigating and publicizing assistance programs and demonstrating a commitment to educate young people that businesses will not tolerate alcohol and drug abuse.

The Antioch project, of course, is voluntary, but it is a positive step in the effort to further a long held goal of law enforcement of exerting economic pressure on substance abusers. Other business organizations, as well as the public at large, undoubtedly will be watching how the awareness program works out in Antioch. It is successful, Antioch could well provide a model for other communities to follow.

Subvert selfishness

Lake County municipalities are quick to don the mantle of self determination when county ordinances run contrary to local goals and aims. By now the running battle between local villages and the Lake county Forest Preserve Dist., for example, over control of open space, protection of the environment and planning of growth and development is legendary.

Both the thinking and talking of village officials goes something like this: "No so and so county official is going to tell us what to do. We know what's best for our town." The reaction of mayors and village trustees to any regional regulation is so predictable that both sides now are resorting to fallback positions before original moves are initiated. It's a giant and costly chess game in which citizens are the losers.

Disregard of individual municipalities for regional and problems beyond village boundaries is typified by the current opposition of Hawthorn Woods and Long Grove to incorporation plans of tiny Gilmer. The two are going to court next month to argue that Gilmer shouldn't incorporate. Isn't incorporation the essence of self determination, the same self determination that both Long Grove and Hawthorn Woods guard so jealously?

Neighborliness disappears and things get pretty ugly when self determination is permitted to run rampant. What results is a free-for-all with every village fighting for selfish interests. Vanishing open space, transportation gridlock and destruction of the environment are byproducts of self determination. Somewhere along the line village trustees need to see the wisdom of putting aside selfishness for the betterment of all.

What would happen if Long Grove and Hawthorn Woods stopped fighting Gilmer residents and extended a helping hand? Good things might result and everyone would be the better.

Letters to the Editor

Only the beginning

Editor:
As I sit on Grand Ave., bumper to bumper in traffic, backed up as far as I can see, I appeal to the residents of Lake County to wake up. These massive developments are not only eating up our open lands but the need to build and widen roads is the reality we must now live with. Our lovely countryside is a thing of the past. Road construction, grid lock, overcrowded schools, soaring taxes and a loss of our lakes, wetlands, wildlife, and a general quality of life is dying in front of our eyes.

I do not blame any one body of government or individual. That would be much too easy. I blame every citizen of Lake County for not making their feelings known to every public official whether state, county or municipal.

Wake up Lake County and let your voice be heard. Our time is running short and we are all loosing our precious county. I urge all of you to contact your public officials and help to put a stop to this senseless path we are on.

Can they handle money?

Editor:
On Sunday, July 22, the community of Vernon Hills held a teen beauty contest. There were five judges and eight contestants. A queen was selected with pageant fanfare. She received the crown, trophy, flowers and money. Miss Higman has an academic excellence record and is a teen clothes model for Marshall Field. On Monday July 23, she was called to the village hall and told that there had been a mistake in tabulation and that she did not win the contest. Not only had she not won, she was not the first runner up or the second runner up. It is not hard to understand the hurt this girl felt or her embarrassment.

Most of the judges are, in some way, associated with the operation of the village. It must be alarming to the constituency of the village to realize that these people who can't tabulate the scores of only eight girls are involved in the complexities of tabulating village budgets, costing for village projects, funding for programs at cost to the tax payers.—Wow!

Flood warning ignored

Editor:
I was a carpenter working for E.J. Bruns Builders when North Libertyville Estates on Buckley Rd. was built. Having lived in Lake County since 1926, I was well aware of flooding of the DesPlaines River. Workers warned home buyers to "be sure and get a boat with your house."

Home buyers looked at "that little creek" when warned about flooding. They found out.

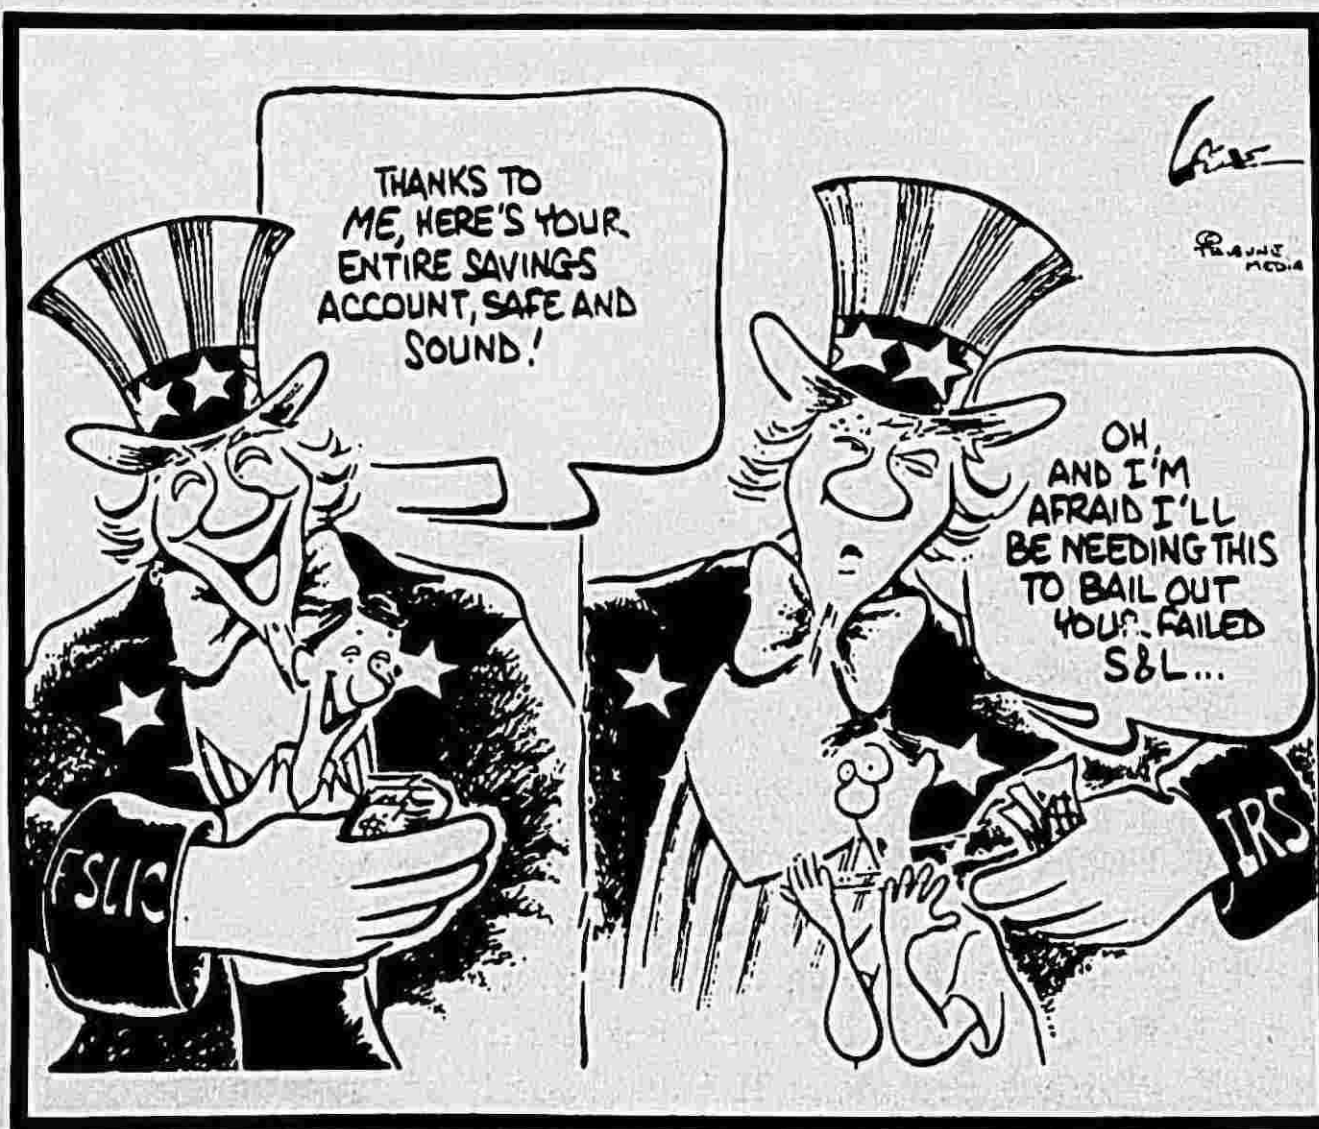

City, county, township and state officials should be made to pay for allowing construction in those areas and damage to property. In some areas, school building was allowed in the flood plain. If building is allowed in the flood plain, damages should be paid for the senseless act.

Inhuman treatment

Editor:
It began as a birthday celebration. It was the choice of a friend, formerly from the big city of New York who thought it would be good fun to celebrate her special day over a hot dog, roast corn and a first time "rodeo experience." She had heard about the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce Rodeo and this was the weekend. I confess to expressing some reservations about the idea, but it was for a friend and, after all, don't rodeos personify some sort of American tradition?

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

"First's" happen in politics, too.

Years ago it was the first father-daughter precinct committee team. The two were Ray Lindrath of Libertyville and his offspring, Marjorie Tylkowski of Fox Lake. She is still active. Her father died a few years ago.

Now, there is another milestone or two.

For openers is a mother-daughter precinct committee team. The two are Donna Mae Litweiler of Long Lake and daughter, Leslie, a committeeman elected this year in adjoining Avon Twp. Donna Mae has been a fixture on the political scene for years.

If daughter Leslie is anything like her mother an active political future awaits her.

Not to be forgotten is the father and son committeeman team in Warren Twp. That's where Robert Depke is the supervisor. He was elected a committeeman for the first time last spring to succeed his wife, GeorgeAnn. Son Shawn, of course, if the powerhouse township GOP party chairman.

GOOD NEWS—The two-party system is alive and well. Lindenhurst Atty. Henry Marquard said he is not dropping out of the Democratic race (at this time) for state representative in the 62nd Dist. That's the turf of Robert Churchill, the Lake County GOP chairman.

Last week a member of Marquard's staff called to say a withdrawal announcement was being prepared for release the following Monday. He was miffed by a lack of Democrat committeemen at a weekend cocktail party at his home.

"I remain convinced the coalition of Democrats, Independents and Republicans backing my campaign will lead us to victory in November," Marquard said.

That's good news for the Democrats, who have been trying for years to match the Republicans candidate for candidate. As for Marquard, it shows he has the kind of staying power demanded of Democrats.

MAKING NEWS—Julia Edwards, the Democratic candidate for the County Board in Dist. 4, keeps coming up with accolades. They are a legitimate reason to mention her. Second, she is a really nice person.

First, she has been named a director of the Round Lake Historical Society and elected a trustee of the Indian Hill Social Club in Round Lake Heights. The social club was organized before the village more than 30 years ago to serve as a voice for the first residents of the Indian Hill subdivision. Edwards, incidentally, is village clerk of the Heights.

Whether or not Edwards makes headlines for her social endeavors, she promises to make some noise this fall. One of her campaign planks is a hospital for west Lake County. She thinks such a facility will save lives and at least 15 to 20 minutes of time it takes a speeding ambulance to get to Waukegan or Libertyville.

COMING EVENTS: Saturday, Aug. 18.—Annual Wauconda GOP Family Cornfest, this year honoring County Board candidates-elect Robert Grever and Colin McRae. will have been my first and last rodeo experience.

A horse died in the arena that night. It appeared to have broken its neck when it ran or bucked into the fence post. Granted this may not have been a common incident, in fact, it has been referred to as a "freak accident," but it did happen and I suspect it could have happened before at some other rodeo. Since then, I have learned that one of the reasons rodeo horses buck is because a painful leather strap is tightly cinched around their groins.

Oh I know the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce sponsored event has been deemed a "great success." A large turnout, despite the weather, and, at six to 12 dollars gate entry, many dollars were made that weekend.

When the well-being and life of animals is put at great risk for reasons of mere entertainment and profit, is this either ethical or moral?

When free-roaming animals are subjected to stress, confinement, physical pain and abuse, and forced to "perform," is this either ethical or moral?

While the "human" rodeo participants are also at great risk, they nevertheless have chosen to take that risk. On the other hand, what choices do the "non-human" participants have?

Minority is governing

Editor:

Poor little Dickey Wickey and Joyce Woycey did big bad county wounty say no. Shame on them! Well what has not been clearly reported by a daily newspaper is that the County Board exercised their legislative prerogative to try and bring these spoiled little rascals under control. And, the rascals don't like that.

Lake Villa wants only to solve their sewer problem. Phew, what a pile of crap (excuse the terrible pun). These spoiled little rascals want to break all the agreements and pretend they are not to blame. These young tikes are being distracted by greedy interests. The Lake County taxpayers have paid $2 million dollars to create a framework plan for the whole county. The newspaper says that Gurnee's annexation of unincorporated lands are now not part of the county, but part of Gurnee. That paper had better look at the governmental structure. The last time I checked, Gurnee was part of Warren Township, Warren Township in Lake County, Lake County in Illinois, Illinois in the United States of America. The paper says, "Lake County does not hold planning/zoning/land use and authority for the entire county, only in unincorporated areas." Well, there you go people, it is clear: there is Lake County, Antioch, Lake Villa, Gurnee and Wadsworth. Seems to me the issue of secession was decided in the Civil War. I thought freedom for the people from tyranny was over. The newspaper says, "county planning is a guideline, not a law, on development." What a self-serving doctrine for greed. The County plan was adopted by and for the entire community under the principles of wanting to:

1. Improve and preserving the quality of life.
2. Keep taxes down.
3. Meet the community needs and interests.

The County Board saw how "municipal leaders" in Cook and DuPage Counties had created urban sprawl leading to high taxes, congestion, over-crowded schools, overworked services and high utility costs. The County Board tried to create a framework plan to avoid the errors of these forerunners of vision. These things are paid for from taxpayers earned wages, not some burnt broom stick given to the Wizard. The County planned growth and development through the year 2000. The Gurnee plan is fostering government by the minority, for the minority and of the minority.

By the way, aren't we Lake County? Naw, we are taxpayers.

Reform up to Congress

Editor:

Congress must act to restore public confidence in the election process. This summer, both the House and the Senate have the opportunity to address and resolve the major problems plaguing our current campaign finance system.

The problems are well known. The spiraling costs of campaigns are out of control, increasingly forcing legislators to sacrifice the public interest to special interest fundraising. The average citizen cannot hope to compete for influence with political action committees (PAC's) or large political party contributors. The average challenger to an incumbent faces a wall of PAC money and congressional privilege that is daunting and often defeating. The American voter feels disenfranchised and turned off.

Congress must put its house in order. Politicians of each party will try to point to the other as the roadblock to reform, but the public demands that real, comprehensive reform be enacted. Congress must stop ducking on campaign finance reform.

Action Line by fred bigham

Dear Action Line,

After I was divorced I was laid off my job in 1987. Due to that I fell behind in my support payments. In July of that year I cleared everything up and now no longer have to make any payments.

The I.R.S. refuses to believe me however. The last three years they have threatened to withhold my tax refund unless I pay the back support which I paid in 1987. Even though my attorney sent them copies of the circuit court order proving that I was all paid up they continue to harass me. I sent them all the information in 1988 and 1989.

Well, you guessed it. The I.R.S. kept my 1989 tax refund. Can you help?

Overtaxed from Lake Villa
Dear Overtaxed,

This is a complicated one. I can see by the paperwork that this will require and expert to get the attention of the I.R.S. You already tried an attorney. Lets go to the top.

You now have an appointment with Thelma Hummel of Congressman Crain's office. The Congressman and his staff will personally look into your case. There, of course, will be no charge.

ACTION LINE is Lakeland Newspapers' way of helping our readers with problems involving government agencies. If you can't get a government agency to respond to your problem, write to ACTION LINE, c/o Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney, Grayslake, IL 60030, and let us give it a try.

BUSINESS/REAL ESTATE

Thomases' business is entrepreneur's dream

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Linda and David Thomas' success story is an entrepreneur's dream. After working in sales for a generic pharmaceutical company for several years, Linda had a marketable product idea, and started Dalin Corp. part-time out of the couple's Grayslake home.

'One day someone gave me a birthday card that played happy birthday. I thought, why not make a business card that actually dials the phone?'— Linda Thomas, president of Dalin Corp.

"One day someone gave me a birthday card that played happy birthday. I thought, why not make a business card that actually dials the phone?" said Linda.

So Linda came up with the idea for the Zipatel, a credit-card sized autodialer that carries a company's logo. That was over two years ago.

Today the Thomases work full-time at Dalin, marketing the product to companies and striving to get it into catalogs.

Linda said owning her own company is very different from working for someone else.

"It takes a lot of confidence and perseverance," she said. "You put in a lot more (Continued on page 16) hours than in someone else's company. And there's a lot of risk."

"Now I'm acting for me, for us," David said, looking at Linda. "Now when I'm out selling I have to make sure it's reliable. You become a captive audience."

The Thomases have also developed the MiniZipatel, a smaller version of the original that comes with a keychain, and the Telekey, which performs similar functions. All three can hold up to a 32 digit phone number for long numbers or perhaps two numbers; all three can be screened to carry a company's logo.

Much of the engineering work, said Linda, was performed by Intersonics, a Northbrook electronics engineering firm that perfected original engineering done by Northwestern University professor Gordon Murphy.

"Production is limited only by someone's imagination," said Linda.

The company also manufactures and markets Mr. Dialer, a more versatile 14-number autodialer the Thomases are trying to market as a retail product. Companies, for example, would give Mr. Dialer as more of a gift item to clients. Similar to this is Dalin's Dial-Alert, an autodialer for quick access to police, fire, and medic. This item, according to Linda, would provide an easier way for children and the handicapped to reach help when it is needed.

"For a company, it could be the deciding factor if someone calls the competition or you," said David. "People associate value with small electronic items."

"It's something different," said Linda. "For years companies have given away pens and things. This is more unique. It advertises the company's name and dials their phone number."

"There are other companies that make autodialers, but we feel ours are the best," she said.

Dalin's autodialers are perfect for car manufacturers that offer roadside assistance, said Linda, and appliance companies' service departments. Dalin also manufactures autodialers for Avon Corp. President's Club.

Linda said the company's future depends on the work the Thomases are doing at present.

"We're developing new products," she said. "And we're raising capital through private investors."

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

The 1990s dawned with headlines full of bad news. Junk bonds were proving to be junk, and inflation was on its way back up.

The 1980s began with an equally dim outlook. But by the end of 1989, the Dow had tripled and the average return on equities during the decade was over 17.5 percent.

The lesson to be learned here is, don't buy bad headlines. Money isn't made on the stock market; it's made on the success of the businesses whose stock we purchase.

The National Association of Investors Corporation, epitomizes the validity of this statement. Forty to 60 percent of its members regularly outearn the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. They achieve this success with a strategy based on three major convictions.

First, stocks have historically been one of the most profitable investments available.

Second, members are convinced stocks will continue to move to new highs.

Finally, NAIC members practice continuing education.

These may sound like lofty ideals, but the NAIC has shown them to be practical guidelines that work.

You can learn more about NAIC by writing P.O. Box 220, Royal Oak, MI 48068.

Three Overlook Point

Hewitt, Van Vlissingen sign Lincolnshire lease

Hewitt Associates and Van Vlissingen and Co., both of Lincolnshire, have signed one of the largest commercial office space leases in the past decade in suburban Chicago.

Hewitt Associates, one of the world's largest benefit consulting companies, will occupy 297,653 square feet at Three Overlook Point in the Lincolnshire Corporate Center. The five-story granite and glass curtain wall building with gray tinted glass is expected to be completed in the spring of 1991. Van Vlissingen manages the Lincolnshire Corporate Park.

Late last year, Hewitt Associates expanded into 170,000 square feet in the nearby One Overlook Point building. It is taking nearly a half million square feet of space in the Lincolnshire Corporate Center in less than a year.

The building is near the shore of a 35-acre deep blue lake offering an excellent view of the lake, the Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, and many portions of the heavily landscaped 304-acre corporate park.

Handle With Care lets college students bring home to school

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Dorm life can be depressingly stark, especially for those college students who study at far-away places and can't manage to bring the comforts of home with them.

The Handle With Care Packaging Store in Mundelein would like to change that. A professional packaging and shipping service, the business opened in April under the ownership of Brad and Susan May.

"We try to appeal to college students who want to take some of the comforts of home with them," said Brad May, who learned of the Handle With Care franchise while working in LaCrosse and thought the business would be favorable in the Chicago area.

"I just fell in love with the concept," he said.

Handle With Care has two other Chicagoland stores—in Palatine and downtown Chicago.

"Say they tell me they've got a rocking chair or a couch they want to move. I get the dimensions and the weight, and punch up a quote. Then I look at the most economic possibility of getting it there," said May. "Everyone looks at the bottom line."

The company will then pick up the items to be moved, free of charge, custom-package and ship the items.

He said the factor that makes his business different from other shipping and packing companies is its ability to handle items up to 1,000 lbs. This ability, said May, is what makes it possible for students with large items but small cars to move their personal belongings.

"We recently handled a move to Honolulu," he said.

May said the bulk of the company's business is in the private sector, although he is willing to handle business moves.

Handle With Care Packaging Store also offers shipping information, packaging supplies, gift wrap, boxes and bows. The company is located at 1412 Butterfield Rd.

Film Review

Calling all girls that think that Mel Gibson is gorgeous and can do no wrong and calling all guys that like his macho adventures!

Gibson's latest, "Air America" is a great follow-up to his "Lethal Weapon" series.

His buddy in this one is Robert Downey Jr., an almost Brat Pack member.

This is the little known story of the airline operated by the CIA during the Vietnam confrontation.

Downey and Gibson are a pretty good mix, both having a fine comedy edge.

There's adventure, laughs and mayhem galore! A particularly funny scene has our two heroes embedding their helicopter high-up in a tree and trying to figure out the best way for upside-down pilots to extricate themselves from the predicament and the plane.

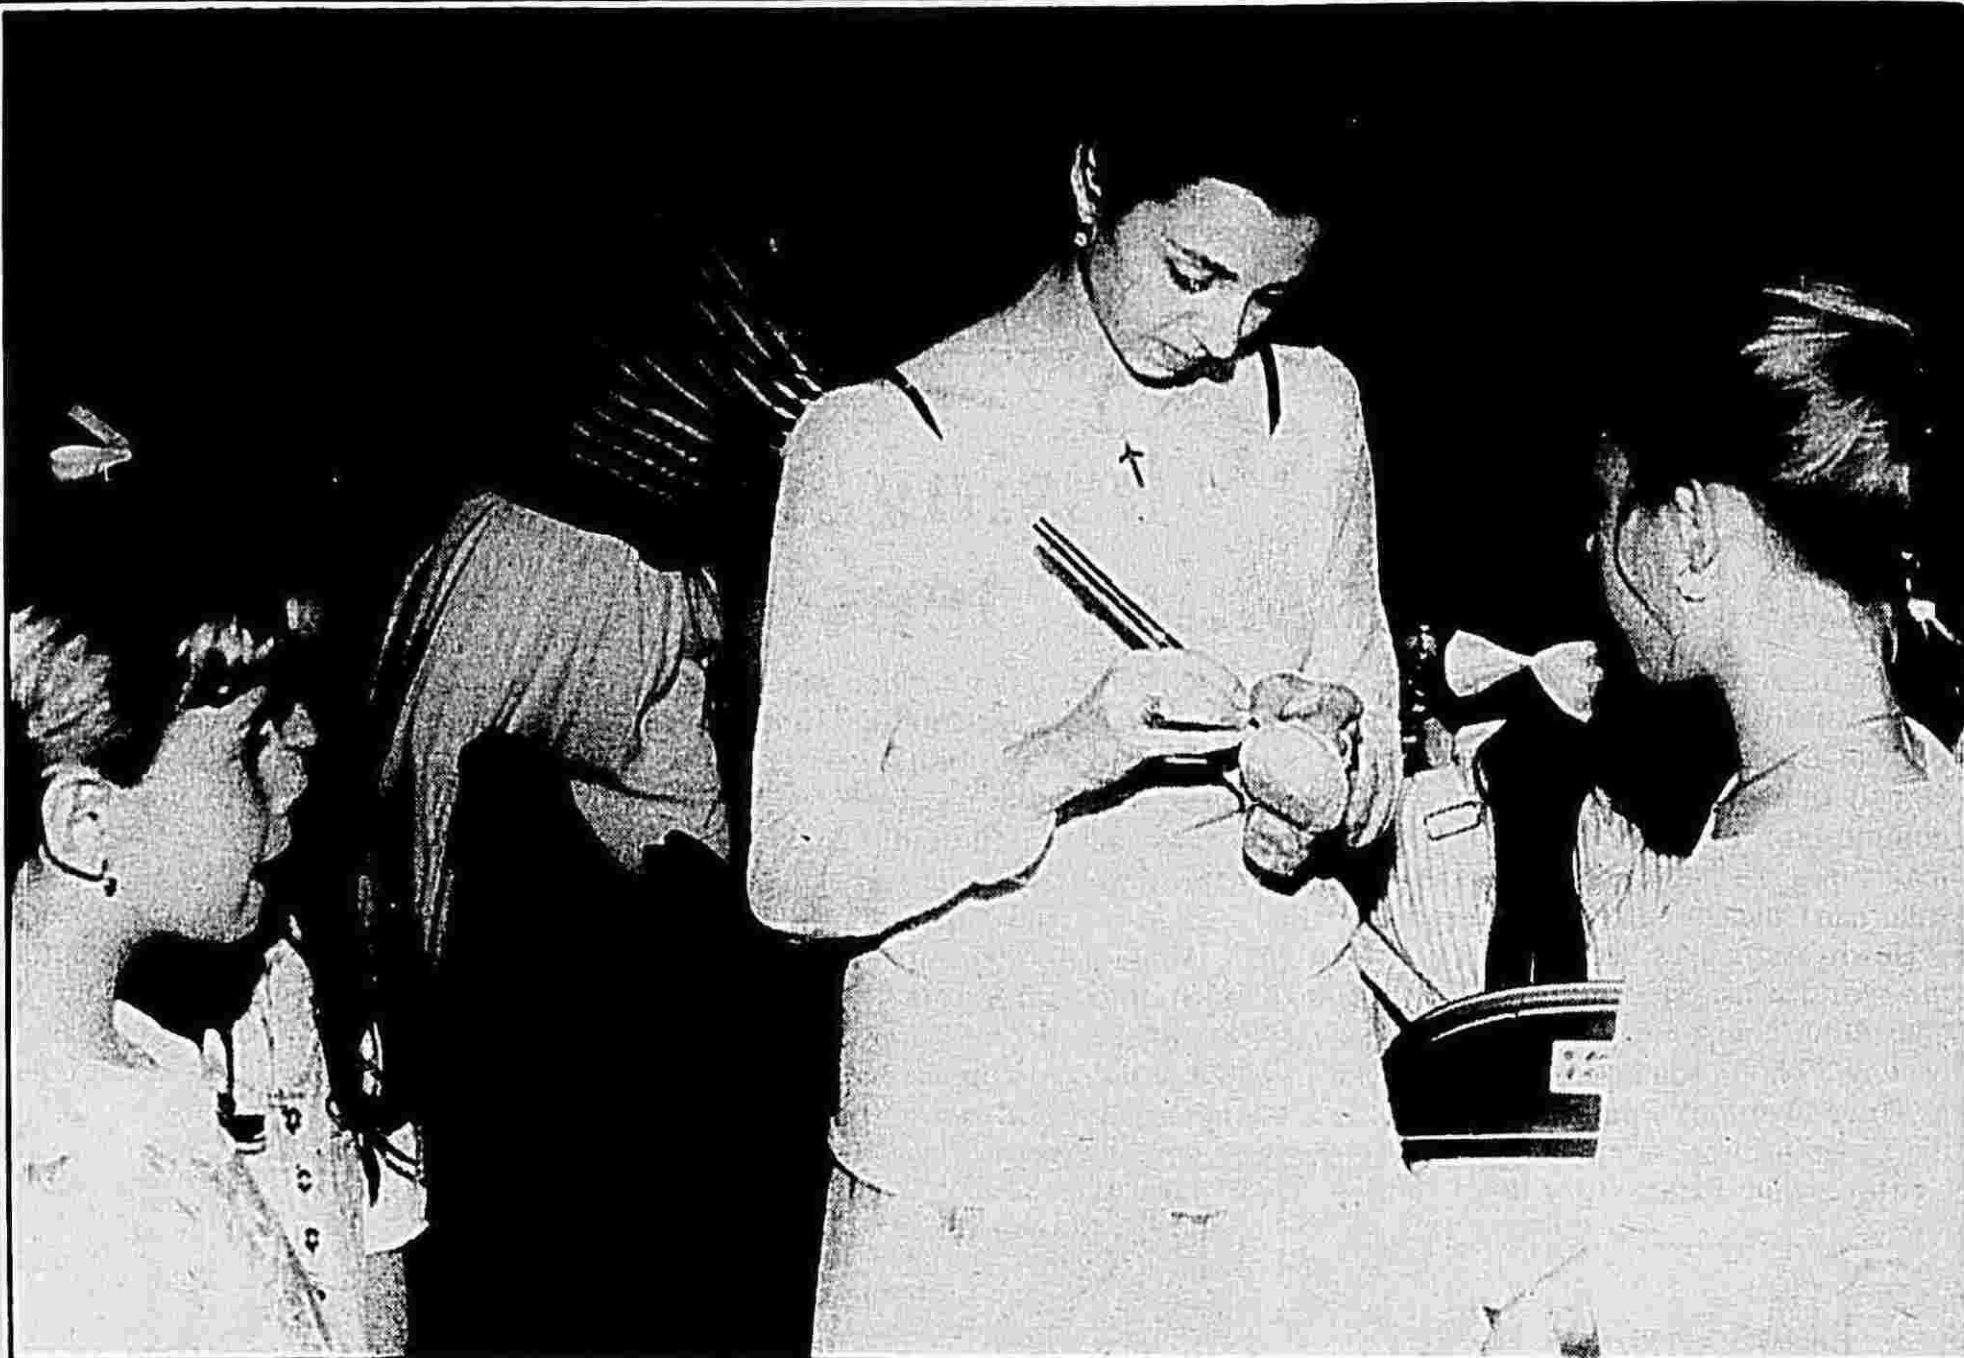

As buddy adventure films go, we'll give this one a four out of five stars.

Be There

The top "be there" item this week definitely concerns attending the Kenosha County Fair in Wilmet running through Aug. 15 to 19. Country music lovers are all excited about the appearance of Janie Fricke on Friday. This columnist's favorite part is still the Kiddie Parade at 10:30 a.m. on Friday morning. I guarantee you'll never see so many cute kids in even cuter costumes anywhere else! See the special fair insert for more info.

Bluegrass fans will be interested to know that Vassar Clements and John McEuen return to the Woodstock Opera house to delight audiences with their unique blend of bluegrass standards and humor. In a like musical vein, lovers of excellent guitar music should be interested in the two concerts at the Woodstock Opera House in McHenry, featuring the legendary "string man" Leo Kottke, on Friday, Sept. 21 and Saturday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m.

Great place to visit — Quiggs Orchard Restaurant in Mundelein, part of the Quiggs Orchard complex which includes a store, is an outgrowth of the orchard started by Mildred and Henry Quig and their son Bob after WW2. The store offers hard-pressed natural apple cider, cheeses and gift boxes as well as bakery goods. The restaurant features breakfasts with a choice of eggs, waffles or pancakes and the lunch menu which features a variety of sandwiches made with home-baked bread, to be topped off with a large slice of Quigs' home-baked apple pie of course.

Name Hynson symphony director

After a year long international search, Richard Hynson of Milwaukee was named orchestra director of the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra. His debut concert as orchestra director will take place Nov. 3 in Waukegan. The concert program, "From Russia With Love," will include outstanding orchestral favorites by Stravinsky, Shostakovich, and Rimsky-Korsakov. For more information and tickets, call (708)360-4742.

"Rick is a builder who wants to inspire audience curiosity about live performance and an interest in symphonic music. We can look forward to an exciting season where every concert has music selections built around a theme," stated Cliff Van Dyke, president of the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus Advisory Board and chairman of the search committee.

The 1990-91 season is Hynson's first with the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and his third with the Bel Canto Chorus of Milwaukee. He recently completed 10 seasons as music director of the Cincinnati Choral Society and five seasons as music director of the Hamilton-Fairfield Symphony Orchestra.

A graduate of DePaul University Music School, Ind., and Westminster Choir College, N.J., Hynson completed his D.M.A. degree in choral conducting in December, 1986, at the College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati, Ohio.

"The City of Waukegan and the advisory board and members of the orchestra have welcomed me with open arms. I am looking forward to some great music making with the musicians of greater Waukegan," stated Hynson.

Hynson recently completed his second year as chairman of the music advisory panel of the Ohio Arts Council. He has been an on-site inspector for the Ohio Arts Council for five years, and he has served as a consultant to the Kentucky Arts Council.

SetSail dinner/auction tickets going quickly

With just a month left to go, tickets to the "SetSail" dinner-auction at the College of Lake County are selling quickly. All proceeds from "SetSail," scheduled for Sept. 15, will benefit CLC's Talent/Leadership Scholarship Fund.

Each ticket is $100. The price includes a gourmet dinner featuring French cuisine catered by Froggy's of Highwood, as well as a prime seat for both the silent and live auctions.

Ticket sales co-chair Charles Bartels, franchise owner of Manpower Temporary Services of Lake County, said, "We are already seeing strong support from the business community, and judging from the participation at the last auction, I am sure we will have a good turn out."

Bartels also reported 20 percent of tickets to the event were sold during the first week of ticket sales. "SetSail" dinner-auction maximum capacity is 500. The last dinner-auction held at CLC in 1988 was sold out and raised over $73,000 for student scholarships. For more information, or to make a reservation, call (708)223-6601, ext. 433.

Whatever happened to the Class of '44?

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

Ralph Wilcox is looking for a few old classmates. It's an interesting search, because Wilcox is looking for people who attended the Hainesville School in or around 1944.

Wilcox, born in Chicago in 1930, currently lives in Round Lake. In 1944, the year he graduated from the Hainesville School, he lived in Round Lake Park.

He remembers when the Hainesville School was just a wooden school house, in the early days when the world seemed to be waiting for war, and then suddenly found itself in the war. "What do I remember most about those years?" he mused. "I remember World War II starting."

He remembered the summers, swimming in the lake, going barefoot, and going to all the free movies put on by local businesses in Round Lake and Grayslake.

"Westerns and war movies. And Tarzan movies were real big back then."

"One year our teacher lived right across the street from the school," he remembers fondly, "and when she went home one day for lunch, we shut all the dampers to the furnace and opened all the windows. This was in the winter, and when she came back in, all she could say was: 'Boy, it's too cold in here. We can't have school today,' and then she let school out for the rest of the day."

This was possible because, unlike schools of today, back then it was just two classes, grades 1-5 and grades 6-8. "All the kids I grew up with were my buddies," Wilcox remembers, "you get close in a small school."

There were, Wilcox said, many advantages to going to a smaller school, not the least was the fact that "you were learning ahead, getting a preview of what was coming up. Back then we had combined classes. While you were studying one subject, feeling your mind start to wander, the teacher was lecturing to another part of the class, and things sort of filtered through. You couldn't help noticing what was going on around you."

Being able to walk to school was also a lot of fun, Wilcox remembered. He doesn't think it's the same today with more children riding school buses. And friends were easier to find, he feels.

"The whole school was friends," he said. "You couldn't do anything without everybody knowing about it."

The old wooden school house was the only school in Hainesville until 1940, then the new brick school house was built.

Today the brick school house is the Hainesville Village Hall and police station, located at Rte. 120 and Hainesville Rd. The old wooden school house was moved into Round Lake Park, and Bonnie Jean Vasey too. Joe Oborny is in Waukegan and Renee Fontana is in Schaumburg. Caroline Brockman, I think, is in Libertyville. But Rita Sorenson, Joan Donaher, Pat Grenell and Margaret Moore, I don't know where they are. It's harder to keep track of the girls. They where it became a meeting hall for the Knights of Columbus and was later torn down. It was originally located just west of the brick school building on Rte 120.

Wilcox remembers his classmates fondly. "Caroline Brockman was the smartest, and Douglas Vickers, the class president, I guess he was the most popular. Joseph Oborny was the most athletic. He played baseball. All the boys played baseball." And the funniest student? "We were all pretty funny, as I recall," said Wilcox with a smile.

Wilcox has kept up with his old class. "I think Bill Krogman is still in the area, change their names when they get married." One classmate, Douglas Vickers, died in an auto accident over 35 years ago, but the 10 others in the Class of 1944 are still alive.

Wilcox would like to hear from his old classmates, and even those schoolmates a year or two ahead or behind. He kept a copy of the graduation program for the Class of 1944, and he's made Xerox copies for any old classmates who may want them.

Wilcox said he can be reached at his home at 114 E. Lake Shore Dr., Round Lake, or by calling (708) 546-4241.

Flaws in ballet Russians entertain Ist Bolshoi show

by TOM WITOM
Lakeland Newspapers

The Bolshoi Ballet, here for its first Chicago appearance since 1979, proved the universality of Shakespeare's genius with a fine rendition of "Romeo and Juliet."

While the famed Russian dance troupe's performance had much to commend itself, it was not without flaw.

On the positive side, the athletic, golden-haired Yuri Vasyuchenko proved himself to be a strong, sensitive

Critics Choice

Romeo, while the long-legged and graceful Nina Ananiashvili shined equally well as Juliet. When the young lovers danced into one another's hearts, sparks of passion flew.

And Aleksandr Petukhov acquitted himself handsomely as Mercutio; his splits and flips were something to see. But Mark Peretokin, despite technical proficiency, didn't light any fires nor stir much fear as Tybalt, in what should have been a menacing role.

Unfortunately, the choreography and set design skimmed on certain essentials (no balcony in the balcony scene, for example).

But later in the program the sheet-covered figures who haunted Juliet's frightful hallucinatory dream after she took a sleeping potion rescued what might have been a so-so ballet. Another nice touch came at the fateful conclusion, as the star-crossed couple was slowly elevated on their deathbed.

Finally, a heavenly Prokofiev score provided the perfect musical backdrop for the full-length ballet.

The Illinois Gun Collectors Assn. will be having a gun and outdoor sports show on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18 and 19 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Kankakee County Fairgrounds, Kankakee. For further information call (815)937-5103.

Russians entertain Ist Bolshoi show

The language of the Soviet Union also was "spoken" during Russian Night at Ravinia.

The Chicago Symphony was led by Valery Gergiev, principal conductor of Leningrad's Kirov Theater. The evening began with three brief "tone poems"—each an intriguing and diverting musical interlude.

Then Misha Dichter, a distinguished pianist, joined the orchestra for a lively, uplifting "Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini, Opus 43" by Rachmaninoff.

Although the outdoor concert season, a 55-year tradition in Highland Park, is winding down, several noteworthy programs remain on the agenda. The Arditti String Quartet, a British import, performs Aug. 17 and 18, Soprano Arleen Auger makes her Ravinia debut Aug. 19, collaborating with pianist Misha Dichter for a night of songs from Schubert, Brahms and Strauss.

It's folk night Aug. 22 when Joan Beaz and John Prince put in an appearance. The Tokyo String Quartet and New York Philharmonic round out the season, which concludes with a four-day tour by the Miami City Ballet at the Murray Theater.

How to get the most for your travel dollar

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

Competition among tour operators has never been so fierce which means some real deals for today's travelers. However, this has brought about some, shall we say, "Creative" Advertising.

So how do you spot a good deal versus an innovative way of arriving at low advertised prices?

Let's first address the obvious. If someone is trying to sell you a ticket to Hawaii for $29, or a week in Florida for $49, remember what P. T. Barnum once said one born every minute and two to take him.

We are going to deal with those ads in the travel section of your newspaper which meet all the legal requirements for truth in advertising, but still may be misleading. Here are some things to ask your travel agent when comparing prices.

Are ALL taxes included?

Hotel taxes can add from 5% to 20% to the cost of your trip if they are not part of the quoted price. Departure taxes, which are imposed by most Caribbean countries and Mexico, are usually not included but seldom exceed $10 U.S. dollars.

Ask about any service charges or mandatory tips that may be payable to the hotel.

Make sure you know how many hotel nights are included in the advertised package. Some companies are advertising air/hotel packages that only included five, four and even one night hotel and making the ad read as if it is a full week vacation package.

Most advertised tour packages include a very budget hotel known in the industry as a "lead" hotel. Depending on your needs and destination, it may suit you just fine. However, you are traveling out of the U.S., where hotel standards are not what they are here, you're probably going to want a little better accommodations. Compare how much more it is going to cost you to upgrade to the next package.

Remember, if you are unsure of what is and is not included in your package, ask your travel agent to explain. You don't want to be surprised when checking out of your hotel and are presented with an unexpected bill.

Lakeland's WEEKEND/LEISURE

The popular Red Lobster restaurant chain has released some of its favorite recipes for consumers to try.

Grilled shrimp kabobs

1/2 cup liquid margarine
1/2 tsp. chopped garlic
1 medium onion, chopped into 1/2" wedges
2 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges
2 medium zucchini, cut into 1/2" pieces
36 shrimp, peeled and deveined with tail on salt and pepper

To prepare:

Combine margarine and garlic; reserve. Peel the onion and cut from top to bottom. Place cut side down and cut each half into six wedges (widest part of the onion should be 1/2"). Break wedges apart so two or three layers of onion stay together. Steam the onions approximately 3 minutes to soften slightly.

Remove the core from the tomato, slice the tomato in half from top to bottom. Place cut side down and cut each half into three wedges. Remove the pulp and seeds from each wedge.

Cut the zucchini into 1/2" slices. Cut small slices (1 1/2" diameter or less) into two pieces; cut large slices (over 1 1/2" diameter) into three pieces lengthwise (do not cut into wedges).

Thread items onto skewer in this order, three shrimp, onion wedge, zucchini, tomato, three shrimp, onion wedge, etc.

Brush skewers with margarine mixture. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Refrigerate until ready to cook.

Lightly brush charcoal grill rack with oil, place skewer on grill rack and cook over medium coals until shrimp are done and vegetables cooked, about 8 to 10 minutes. Turn once or twice while cooking to prevent burning. Or, place on broiler pan. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat for 8 minutes, turning only once.

Yield 4 kabobs

Snapper Veracruz

6, 8 oz. snapper fillets liquid margarine
2 cups marinated vegetables salt and pepper

To prepare:

Place fish fillets on a baking pan, skin side down. Baste fish with margarine, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread 1/3 cup marinated vegetables over the top of each fillet. Bake 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until the fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Yield 6, 8 oz. servings

Marinated vegetables

1/2 cup chopped onion 1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup diced tomato 1/2 cup Chablis wine
1/4 cup sliced black olives 1 tsp. oregano
1/4 cup sliced green olives

To prepare:

Combine the above ingredients in an appropriate container and let stand for five minutes.
Yield 2 cups.

Garlic shrimp on Linguini

1 lb. large shrimp 1/4 cup clam juice
8 ozs. butter 1 ounce sauterne wine

1/4 cup olive oil
1 tsp. chopped garlic 1/4 tsp. salt
1 Tbl. chopped fresh parsley
1 lb. linguini (uncooked).

To prepare:

Cook linguini following instructions on the package. Peel and devein shrimp leaving the tails on. Sauté shrimp in butter and olive oil. Remove shrimp as soon as they are cooked.

Add remaining ingredients to butter mixture except pasta. Heat sauce to boiling. Reduce heat. Add shrimp and heat to serving temperature. Place pasta on a serving platter. Top with shrimp and pour sauce over shrimp and pasta. Garnish with parsley sprigs.

Yield 4 portions.

Crab salad

16 ozs. snow crab meat
2/3 cup mayonnaise
2/3 cup celery, finely sliced
2 tsp. lemon juice.

To prepare:

Mix mayonnaise and lemon juice in a two quart bowl. Add the celery and the snow crab meat. Mix well. Refrigerate until served.

Shop Smart

Decorating your home can be wonderful and exciting. It can also be quite frustrating when things don't turn out the way you planned.

To ensure a look you'll love, you must see the samples and swatches in your home—under your lighting!

Different types of store lighting can alter the color of furnishings a little or a lot. Incandescent/fluorescent lighting can create a light orange tint on a white surface and make blues and greens appear darker. Warm/white fluorescent lighting may make white surfaces slightly yellow and light greens brighter. It can also make blues appear clearer and richer.

Another type of store lighting is cool/white fluorescent. This lighting projects a faint blue tint which can darken and mute colors such as blues, greens and reds.

If you are planning on a little decorating, now may be the time to call a professional to come to your home. It may be the easiest choice you'll ever have to make!

Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County At A Glance

Rips county ties

FOX LAKE—Exploding with anger, Trustee Rich Bayne called the system of inter-governmental agreements that is the basis of the North West Sewer Dist. "garbage" and that dealing with nine separate governmental bodies "stinks." Bayne, chairman of the village sewer and water committee, was enraged that the village council is giving consideration to supporting legislation before the governor giving voters of the Round Lake area an opportunity to vote their inoperative sanitary dist. out of existence. Bayne has supported creation of a super-sanitary dist. to replace the network put together by the Lake County Public Works Dept. serving more than 40,000 persons in northwest Lake County. The treatment works at Fox Lake now is being expanded to serve 80,000 persons.

Eyeing annexation

LINDENHURST—The Lindenhurst Village Board has agreed to begin annexation talks with Emerald Ridge Joint Venture, the developers of the proposed subdivision of the same name on the southeast side of the village. The development still hangs on the Strand and Associates study on bringing sewer and water to the site, which village trustees have received but not discussed as yet.

City holds talks

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago city officials are pleased with the results of a meeting Saturday with more than 100 residents of Rolling Green Apartments. "We talked about a lot of things, mainly security," Oliver Washington, director of public relations for the city of North Chicago, said.

Expanding recycling

MUNDELEIN—This village will become the first in Lake County to offer recycling to residents of apartments and condominiums in September. Obenauf Disposal Service will start the program by distributing 1,100 red recycling baskets. Cost is $1 per month, the same paid by homeowners. With the start of this service the village's self-deposit center will close.

Want P.O. to stay

LIBERTYVILLE—Village officials will join Heritage Area businessmen in a drive to retain a postal substation in the downtown area when a new post office is completed next year on the south side. A survey last year showed the post office is the No. 1 reason many people come to the downtown area. The village board is preparing a resolution asking for a downtown substation. It will be passed at a late August meeting and mailed to state and federal officials.

Meyer to retire

GAGES LAKE—Marlin Meyer will be retiring as superintendent at Woodland Dist. 50 next year. The board of education approved Meyer's retirement as of June 30, 1991 on Monday.

Hodge, mayor clash

NORTH CHICAGO—The city's policy regarding affirmative action was hit hard by a North Chicago alderman Monday. At issue was granting a contract of $149,864.68 to Scully Hunter & Scully of Schaumburg for extension of water and sewer to the new North Chicago fire station. Mayor Bobby Thompson defended the affirmative action policy.

Triple blockade

CHAIN O' LAKES—The Coast Guard, The Lake County Sheriff's Dept., and the Ill. Dept. of Conservation held a blockade at two different locations on the Chain last weekend. The Rte. 12 and Grass Lake Rd. bridges saw a total of 229 boardings, with 25 citations issued, most of which were for equipment violations. Seven patrol boats were used in the blockade. This is the first time the three groups have held a joint blockade.

Township levies

AVON TWP.—Avon Twp. officials have passed the 1990 tax levy. The levy was not brought before a public hearing because it doesn't contain a five percent or more increase over last year's levy, which is the requirement to bring a levy before a public hearing. This year the township is asking for $529,998 as a corporate levy. This amount, if it is received, will be added to the $270,212 that the township has available to it, making the total cash needed to run the township for next year $800,200. The total for both permanent road taxes and road and bridge is $314,902. The total of all taxes levied is $844,900.

Levy hearings

ROUND LAKE—Both the Round Lake Area School Dist. 116 and the Round Lake Area Library will be holding public hearings to approve proposed property tax levy increases. The school district will hold its meeting at 7 p.m. on Aug. 20, and the library will hold its meeting on Aug. 28 at 6:45 p.m. The total property taxes proposed for the school district are $6,822,549, and the library plans to levy a total of $813,741 this year.

Move park offices

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich trustees tentatively approved Monday to move the park department office into the former Metropolis House, at 626 N. Old Rand Rd. to ease cramped conditions at the Barn and to allow more space for park programs. The move will be temporary, until other space is found. Village officials intend to renovate the House into a historical society in the future. The move will cost $79,000, including a new driveway and parking lot, electrical work, phone hookup and burglar and fire alarms. The new facility will provide space for a six or seven-member office staff and meeting rooms for park seminars. The existing office will allow space for three toddler programs and a holiday craft class.

Seek fire tax hike

WAUCONDA—Wauconda village officials plan to ask voters to approve a referendum in November to increase the tax levy in the fire and ambulance fund from .40 to .50 per $100 assessed valuation. This would make the village equal with the Wauconda Fire Protection Dist., which has a tax rate of .50 and would prevent the village from taking money from the general fund in case of a shortfall. The cost to residents would be minimal — about $4 to $5 per year, according to Trustee James Eschenbauch. The decision stems from when the village borrowed about $32,000 from the general fund for a shortfall in the fire and ambulance fund this past spring. If voters reject the request, the village may consider joining the fire district.

Sewer rejected

LAKE VILLA—The village of Lake Villa will not except the Lake County's new sewer agreement. The new agreement allows the village to grow only up to 300 percent and the village would still have to go through the regional planning commission before any new development could hook into the sewer system.

Apology requested

ANTIOCH—Village trustees are calling upon Mayor Robert Wilton to publicly apologize to village employees for the remark he made about them at the Aug. 6 board meeting. Mayor Wilton said village employees waste, on an average, an hour to an hour and a half a day on non-productive work, which is wasting the taxpayers' dollars.

Protecting your car's finish

Remember how you felt the first time you spotted a nick or scratch on the shiny finish of your new car when you came back to the parking lot from shopping? You either had to search around for some touch-up paint that matched the color or try to ignore the abuse and suffer.

A suggestion from the car care experts say a painless way to deal with the problem and protect your car's finish in the process is to look for a pigmented sealant, now available in auto department stores in a series of basic colors, that you can apply in the same fashion as a regular car wax to fill in the marks with color while sealing the surface and adding luster to the finish

For older cars that have endured a few years on the road and have a little finish wear to show for it, this technique is also being used as an alternative to touch-up paint treatments for spiderweb scratches, nicks and dings.

Pigmented sealant suppliers say that the most popular colors they sell are maroon, dark blue and black. Others in descending order are medium blue, red, white, silver, dark brown, dark gray and tan.

The liquid sealant goes on like a car wax. After washing to remove dirt, pour a small portion on a cheesecloth and apply in short strokes. Wait 10 minutes and wipe off. No rubbing or buffing is needed.

At Victor Ford, We Specialize In You! Meet Our Service Manager Don Barnes

Over the past few weeks, you were able to meet each one of our service staff. They all take great pride in what they do and would like the chance to prove it. I feel we have the Best service department anywhere and am looking forward to showing you nothing less.

Thanks, Don Barnes

Keep fuel systems clean

Whether a car uses fuel injection or a carburetor to deliver the essential air and gasoline mixture to the engine, dirt in these fuel delivery systems can cause hesitation, stalling and rough running.

These performance problems can be caused by deposits in fuel injectors or carburetors which interfere with the flow of gasoline.

According to car experts, car owners can quickly and inexpensively clean deposits with fuel additives formulated to clean both fuel injectors and carburetors. These cleaners contain a high-strength cleansing agent to help remove accumulated deposits and clean the fuel delivery system to reduce emissions, eliminate rough starts, and increase fuel efficiency. It is recommended that one bottle of cleaner be added to a full tank of gas every 1,000 miles.

Bright, compact and efficient, the Hyacinth 1 makes excellent use of space, and offers several features not often found in smaller homes. The most notable of these are a guest suite, an electronic security center, three bathrooms, and a recycling center.

The big country kitchen has a wide garden window and a full pantry with plenty of room for storing home preserved fruits and vegetables. Friends and neighbors will love dropping by to sit around the kitchen table and chat. Range and oven are built into an eating bar that borders on the dining room. Handy for warming and serving a hurry-up can of soup, it also doubles as a buffet for more formal meals.

In response to an increasing interest in preserving the environment, a recycling center is built into one wall, with counter space and cupboards over the pass-through bins. Family members will appreciate the ease of placing cans, bottles, plastic, or whatever, in the bins during kitchen clean-up, without stepping outside. Later, when the time comes to bundle and bag items for the recycler, the work can be done on the other side of the bins, in the garage.

By combining the dining and living rooms, the designers have given the area, and thus, the whole home, a more spacious feeling than would be the case with two smaller rooms. Some families may wish to totally forgo formality and outfit this window-brightened area as a large family room, including a home entertainment and/or computer center. Triple sliding glass doors open onto a small deck.

The master bedroom has a bay window, a triangular-shaped walk-in closet, and a shower with no tub, for easier and safer access. The other bedrooms are located at the opposite end of the house. A shared oversized tub, bathed in natural light from above, is accessible from both the main bathroom and another that serves the small guest suite.

Utilities are hidden behind pocket doors in a room that could be used for guests, hobbies, sewing, exercise or even as an office.

For a study plan of the HYACINTH 1 (330-41), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Mix-ups in communications could easily occur. Over-optimism and impulsiveness work against sound judgment. Postpone important decisions for now. It's probably not the best time to get true value for money spent. Be careful of minor errors when shopping. Small disputes could also arise now.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) There's just enough of those little things going wrong now to feel that you're not in the driver's seat. Don't let minor limitations disturb your ego. Mood shifts are likely with the result that you spend a good part of the day coping with them. Don't make mountains out of molehills. Keep a tight rein on sensitivities.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your pride's not hurt, but the lukewarm attitude of acquaintances gives you a "take it or leave it" view of socializing now. Avoid those who waste your time. It's hard to get things cooking in your career now. Business and friendship don't mix as well as they should. Some are evasive and not ready for commitment.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You may not be pleased with the advice you receive now. Nothing goes wrong, but you don't exactly drum up support for your enthusiasm. There are just too many loose ends dangling to be satisfied with a business proposition as is. What needs to be worked out probably won't occur now.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) It's difficult to get two heads to work as one now. Differences could occur about both investment and pleasure concerns. Nothing major, however, is at stake. Either you feel others are meddling, or there are just too many interruptions and distractions to be totally pleased about work efforts.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Mixing business and pleasure won't bring you the results you seek now. You need to keep your feet on the ground in the romance department. Watch self-indulgence. It's not the best time to have company over. Though there are no major domestic problems, family members seem to be involved with their separate interests.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Despite your ability to sell yourself now, you may not get the feedback you desire. However, you still generate good will. Don't count on others' support for your ideas. You'll find some things you like when shopping. It's a poor time though for gaining financial backing or cooperation from others now.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Though you find the right words to get across what you mean, you may be disappointed in a partner's response. Others aren't ready to go along with your wishes. You'll sneak in a few hours for yourself now, but work demands may be pressing and time consuming. Rest and relaxation may have to come another day.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're certainly a welcome addition at a social event, but you may be disappointed that a loved one is unable to join you there. You're not at your best. Though business mixes with pleasure, you may have to cut an engagement short due to pressing demands at home base. Responsibilities come first now.

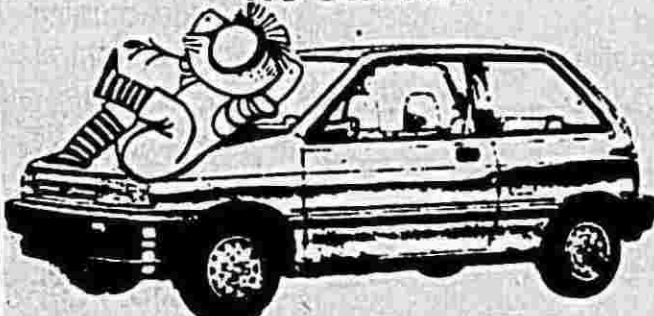

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Business advice proves helpful. You'll meet those whose views differ from your own. Exercise tolerance. There may be a string attached to an invitation. Financial developments are mixed. Despite the green light from advisers, you may be reluctant to go along with a business proposition.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You may be the one to put the cold water on the flames of romance now. Others are affectionate, but you may be withdrawn, self-involved or not interested. There seems to be some stumbling blocks in the way of an office romance. Despite some work progress, you may in some way feel your efforts aren't appreciated.

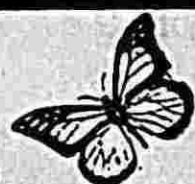

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A romantic luncheon looks promising, but the cold-shoulder treatment you may receive from some acquaintances could bother you. Not everyone recognizes your worth. There is some happiness on the home front now, but work obligations could interfere with family plans. Others are likely to be disappointed.

CHURCH TALK

Antioch

The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church will feature guest speaker, Dr. Kenneth Meyers on Sunday, Aug. 19 at 6 p.m. He is the former pastor, gifted teacher, and present president of Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Deerfield. For more information call (708) 356-2090.

Wauconda

The Spirit of Life Singers (SOLS) will present a live concert of tastefully blended traditional and contemporary Christian music Sunday, Aug. 19, at 6 p.m. at the Evangelical Free Church of Wauconda, Rte. 176 and Anderson Rd. This dynamic concert will feature an outstanding variety of gospel, anthem and hymn arrangements for family and friends, regardless of age. Each song will be interpreted in sign language. The church welcomes all who enjoy the ministry of music to come and share in this evening of worship.

Island Lake

On Tuesday, Aug. 28, at 7:30 p.m., the Women's Fellowship of the First Community Congregational Church located at 217 W. Rte. 176, in Island Lake, is sponsoring a program from Legacies: Recreating the Lives of Notable Women. Guest performer will be actress Shirley Chaney, who will present the life of Anna Howard Shaw. Legacies is a group of actresses who portray notable women from history. Chaney will portray Anna Howard Shaw (1847-1919), the first woman to be an ordained Methodist minister and also a doctor. For further information call (708) 526-7862.

Grayslake

On Sunday, Sept. 9, St. Andrew's Church in Grayslake will hold its fourth annual silent auction from 10 a.m. to noon. Merchandise and services for the auction have been donated by local businesses and church members. In a silent auction, successive bids for each item are entered in writing. At the noontime conclusion, the highest bid for each item auctioned wins. The public is invited to attend.

Libertyville

There will be an open house on Saturday, Sept. 8 from 9 a.m. to noon at Libertyville United Methodist Church, 429 Brainard Ave., Libertyville, to acquaint Sunday school age children and their parents with the education programs. Maps and tours will be provided to new and prospective members. For additional information call the church office at (708) 362-2112.

Ingleside

Everyone in the Lakes Area with crafty ambitions is invited to reserve a table for the craft fair on Saturday, Oct. 13, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Ingleside United Methodist Church. There is a donation of $10 per table to display and sell your crafts. Those who prefer to view and purchase other people's crafts are invited to attend the fair from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The church is located on Maple Ave., one block south of Grand and one block west of Wilson Rd., Ingleside. For further information call Vickie Roath at (708) 587-6706.

NEW EXPECTATIONS

Day care, toys go hand in hand

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Most children would definitely say "no!" if someone told them toys are for learning. Day care services, however, as well as companies that make educational toys, thrive on the idea that children's play is children's work.

"The number-one piece is blocks called unit blocks," said Jennifer Santo, director of the Lindenhurst Early Childhood Center. "You want open-ended materials that children can use. Blocks could be walkie-talkies, houses for stuffed animals, or kids could learn weight measurement and problem-solving."

Sue Adams of Sunshine Child Care in Round Lake

agreed that hand-on toys are important to child development and said the child care business has affected the toy business in this respect.

"I think it has changed," she said. "Most child care places have come away from the ditto sheets and coloring books to more hands-on kind of toys that allow children to develop their thinking skills."

Such was the case with Discovery Toys, founded in 1978 in Martinez, Calif. by the Lane Nemeth, former director of a state day care school who discovered the limited educational toys on the retail market after her own child was born.

"A lot of schools have had access to developmental and educational playthings. Europe has used them for many years," said Jan Capinegro, national sales director for Discovery Toys in Barrington. The company operates as a home-based business where educational consultants hold group demonstrations, much like the Tupperware format.

"I think most schools have had access to the products on a retail level. But it's just recently that retailers have begun picking up developmental and educational playthings," said Capinegro.

Educational toys are also a very profitable business. In 1989 alone, Discovery Toys made $65 million in sales. The company operates out of Canada and Japan as well.

One of the latest toys marketed by Discovery Toys is My Travel Book, designed to keep children occupied and learning during long trips. The book uses special surface pages and an erasable crayon to make the book usable over and over. My Travel Book is the third in a row of Discovery Toys' products to win the annual Gold Circle Award from the Parents Choice Foundation. Discovery also manufactures and markets such products as the "Bazaar" and "Sticks 'N' Barrels" boards games and "Kinder Krunchies," a children's cookbook.

Adams said, however, that manufactured playthings have certain disadvantages. "A lot of the things the kids enjoy the most are things we make ourselves. Toy are so costly to purchase when you can make it yourself," she said. "When you have a class of 20 children they don't last very long."

Adams said science and manipulative toys like magnets are good learning tools, as well as sorting and counting toys for pre-math skills, distances, shapes and colors for pre-reading skills, and such familiar toys as kitchen sets for social skills.

"All the toys are used for different skills," said Adams. "Toy development has gotten away from toys that can only be used for one specific thing to those that kids can be more creative with."

Santo added that even the superhero or "cartoon" toys, so popular with today's young children, can be effective learning and emotional tools.

"There's a big issue with superhero toys. The Ninja Turtles are a good example. Children watch television, and they watch a lot of violence," she said. "They need an opportunity to work out what they've seen and what they've experienced in their own lives."

Santo said she strips superhero toys of their weapons before the children play with them, but a Ninja Turtle without his gear will perform the same function as one with it.

"There are advantages to having some of those kind of things in the classroom," said Santo.

"Toys should be things that have no right or wrong answer. The Speak and Spell, for example, only had one right answer," Adams said. "We look for things for children to play with they can be successful at. That's the most important thing to me, that children feel successful and good about themselves."

Santo's philosophy is similar to Adams'.

"Toys are only one aspect. You have to look at the total child," she said. "Social, emotional, cognitive, physical, you have to look at the whole scheme of things."

Santo, who is in the process of buying My Tree House day care center in Lindenhurst, said play rooms in a day care center should be set up into "areas" that have a specific flow as children move around them room.

Santo's ideal classroom has an art area, a water and sand table, a science area—complete with hamsters, globes, and magnets—a computer area, music area, book area, kitchen area, clothes area, motor area—jump ropes, climbing toys and other physical games—and a block area.

"Hopefully each area will hit some kind of learning process along the line," Santo said.

There's more to nutrition than ABC's

As letters of the alphabet, the ABCs are building blocks used to form the basis for all communication. As essential vitamins, they also form the basis for good nutrition. However, just as levels of communication differ between younger and older children, so do the nutritional requirements for a proper diet.

The United States Government sets standards of recommended daily allowances (U.S. RDA) of vitamins for children. Children ages two and three have lower vitamin and mineral requirements than do children four years of age and older.

"Almost all children's vitamins offer only one dosage strength, usually supplying more than 100 percent of the requirement for the younger age group and less for children four and older," said Donna Haverstock, a registered dietitian from Key West, Florida.

Ms. Haverstock pointed out that 60 percent of children in this country are given vitamins, with peak usage between ages two and five. She said the need for vitamin supplements is increasing for many reasons:

- More meals are being eaten away from home, especially in fast-food restaurants, which tend to offer

According to the nutritionists at Gerber, rice or oatmeal cereals, when fed as a supplement to breast milk infant formula, serve as a good source of iron, calories and other nutrients at a time when it is particularly important that babies receive sufficient amounts of each for proper growth.

less nutritious meals than those cooked at home;

- The numbers of single-parent households and households with both parents working outside the home are increasing, and parents are often unable to supervise their children's meals;

- Snacks have become more acceptable as part of the daily diet, and total soft drink consumption continues to grow while milk and dairy product consumption declines.

The good news for parents concerned about their children's vitamins is that a new vitamin is available that offers two age formulations. Johnson & Johnson, a well-respected name in the health care industry, and Children's Television Workshop, the producers of "Sesame Street™", have joined together to produce SESAME STREET™ Vitamins. Johnson & Johnson's McNeil Consumer Products Company, Fort Washington, Pa., has developed and is marketing the vitamins. SESAME STREET™ Vitamins are available at grocery stores and pharmacies in six character shapes and three flavors.

That's good news for parents who want their children to get all the ABCs of good nutrition.

Health food trend attracts adults, babies

Today, some health-conscious adults are discovering that the foods they ate as infants can, again, be "grist for one's mill."

Adults scanning supermarket shelves and cereal departments are noticing that oat bran and rice bran are the hottest trends in health food ingredients and cereals. Both brans combine the nutritional benefits of high fiber and low cholesterol.

Chances are, most of today's parents benefitted from oatmeal and rice as infants. For years, doctors have recommended oatmeal and rice cereals as a good source of nutrition and iron for infants.

According to a national Pediatrician and Family Physician Infant Feeding Study, most pediatricians recommend cereal as babies' first supplemental food to breast milk or formula.

- Out of the 367 pediatricians surveyed, 93 percent recommend cereal as babies' first supplemental food.

- Eighty-five percent of the pediatricians recommend rice cereal as the top cereal choice to introduce to babies; oatmeal follows, recommended by six percent of the pediatricians.

Oatmeal and rice cereals are recommended for infants because of the following nutritional benefits:

- Rice or oatmeal cereals, when fed as a supplement to breast milk or infant formula, serve as a good source of iron, calories and other nutrients at a time when it is particularly important that babies receive sufficient amounts of each for proper growth.

- Rice and oatmeal cereals are well-tolerated by infants and are unlikely to cause food sensitivities or allergies.

- Rice and oatmeal cereals contain an appropriate amount of protein for infants. When fed as a supplement to breast milk or infant formula, the protein present in rice and oatmeal supplements the diet, but will not overload the infant's young digestive system.

- Rice and oatmeal cereals are designed to be easily digested by young infants.

Many Americans are more health conscious than ever and have changed their diets to improve their health and reduce the risk of some adult diseases. However, the nutritional recommendations set for adults differ from those for infants. Applying adult diets to infants could be harmful.

Due to very rapid growth and development, babies have high caloric and nutrient needs during the first two years of life.

Nutritionists suggest the following dietary guidelines for infants:

- Build to a variety of foods.

- Pay attention to your baby's appetite to avoid over-feeding or under-feeding.

- Don't restrict fat and cholesterol too much.

- Don't overdo high-fiber foods.

- Sugar is okay, but in moderation.

- Sodium is okay, but in moderation.

- Babies need more iron, pound for pound, than adults.

Some manufacturers promote the nutritional benefits of high fiber and low cholesterol in their oat and rice bran products. For infants, rice or oatmeal cereal, when fed as a supplement to breast milk or infant formula, contains a moderate amount of natural fiber appropriate for babies.

Protect your precious cargo

Just because you are a careful, safety-minded driver with your little one in the car, don't be so sure that other drivers heed the "baby on board" sign.

Between 1983 and 1988, the lives of 1,011 children under the age of five were saved by car safety seats, according to government statistics. It is estimated that another 1,980 children in the same age group might have been saved over the past five years had they been in a properly installed and adjusted car safety seat.

Children need extra protection while traveling in a car, beginning with that first trip home from the hospital. According to the United States Dept. of Transportation (DOT), small children are safest in a car when properly buckled in a child safety seat fastened in the rear seat of the vehicle.

But a safety seat is only as useful as you make it.

A trio of College of Lake County basketball players and an assistant coach adjusted to half-court basketball style and an unfamiliar basket to come away with the top honors in the Lakeland Newspapers Three-On-Three Summer Jam competition at CLC on Saturday.

Howard McKnight, Alvin Horton, Corey Statham and Brian Colbert were the winning team as "Black Magic" won two-of-three games from the Jazz in the Division A final. In the division B competition, the All Mighty Ones, consisting of Libertyville's Brian Davis, Mundelein's Shawn Harlan and Tom Simon of Libertyville won that division. "We took them kind of lightly in the first game, but after that we knew we were in for a battle," McKnight said of the Jazz.

The Jazz contingent of Lee Oler, Ted Wagner and Tom Les suprised Black Magic with a 15-12 win in the first game.

But Black Magic rebounded in the second game, winning a 15-12 decision. In that game, Black Magic took a 7-3 lead early. The Jazz closed the gap to 12-11, but the Black Magic team pulled away. Hoops by Colbert, Statham and McKnight finished the game.

In the third and deciding game, the contest was nip-and-tuck until Black (Continued on page 45)

Rallies oust Libertyville in state legion tourney

Using two rallies, the Brighton Legion baseball team eliminated Libertyville Post 329 from the state tournament at Barrington High School.

The Post 329 squad finished the season with a 22-9 record after having won the Second Division title. The team came back to beat Barrington and Edwardsville after losing to Brighton, but had to beat the team again and fell on Friday.

Lejman's no-hitter boosts Chiefs squad

A no-hitter highlighted the Lake County Chiefs' showing in the Continental Amateur Baseball Assn. (CABA) tournament in Iowa.

Pat Lejman fired a no-hit gem as the Lake County team shutout Lin-Mar, Iowa 3-0. Lejman, of Round Lake, struck out nine and walked one in the performance.

The Chiefs faced their stiffest competition of the year and rain delays as they went 5-6 in 11 games in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The team is a collection of 15-year-old all stars.

The Chiefs started the tourney by losing three games, falling to Arizona 10-0, Maryland 4-0 and Ohio 11-2. The bats then came alive in a 15-3 win over Georgia, an 8-5 victory over Cedar Rapids and a 7-5 win over Davenport.

A 7-3 win over Michigan put the team one game out of the qualifying round.

Lake County trailed 6-4 with two on when the rains came in a game against Georgia. But Georgia then extended its lead to 8-4 after the delay.

In the tourney's final game, the Chiefs fell to Lin-Mar 9-4.

Two Chiefs led the hitting attack. Steve Taylor of Grayslake hit .545 and Marc Elizondo of Round Lake Beach hit .500. Topping or hitting the .400 mark were Jeff Randall of Round Lake Park at .424 and Ken Allen of Lincolnshire at .400. Rob Sherman of Round Lake batted .364.

Although the Chiefs were eliminated, one younger Chief had his season continue. Eight-year old Mac Mansavage of Lincolnshire, the team's batboy, was asked to play for the Charles City Little Reds in a tournament for nine-year olds.

GERMAN BOY NEEDS HOME IN OUR COMMUNITY

Lars Elborg from West Germany is anxiously awaiting news that there is a family in the Lake County area who will help fulfill his dream of spending a year in America. Lars enjoys swimming, bike riding, badminton and reading and is hoping to pursue some of these interests during his exchange year. Lars is also looking forward to developing new 'American' interests and hobbies that he can share with his friends when he returns to West Germany.

Each year, ASSE International Student Exchange programs provides qualified European students with the opportunity to spend an Academic year in America attending a local high school and learning about life in America. If your family would help make Lars's year in the Lake County area possible, please call local Area Representative Cheryl Beach at 708/483-1907 or ASSE's toll free number at 1-800-333-3802.

ASSE, a non-profit organization, is dedicated to fostering international relationships between countries through cultural exchange.

Chiefs' profile shows a varied background

A profile for each of the team members for the Lake County Chiefs, a team which captured the title at the Stars of Tomorrow tournament in LaCrosse, Wis. and qualified for the Continental Amateur Baseball Assn. World Series in Iowa:

Jay Mansavage of Riverwoods is a sophomore at Deerfield High School who plays football and basketball as well as baseball. He plays shortstop, catcher and pitcher for the Chiefs.

Ken Allen of Lincolnshire is a sophomore at Stevenson High School. He is a three-sport athlete, competing in football, basketball and baseball. He plays catcher, third base, and outfield.

Jermaine Williams of North Chicago is a sophomore at Carmel High School and plays basketball and football in addition to baseball. Williams plays second base.

Jeff Randall of Round Lake Park is a junior at Round Lake Senior High School where he plays baseball (where he already has earned a varsity letter), basketball and football. For the Chiefs, he plays center field and pitches.

Scott Garland of Vernon Hills is a sophomore at Libertyville High School and plays third base and outfield.

Jeff Cartwright of Zion is a junior at Zion-Benton Twp. High School and this spring decided to run track instead of playing baseball. His speed on the bases this summer is showing the affects of track training. He also plays basketball.

Rob Sherman of Round Lake is a junior at Round Lake Senior high School. A basketball player, Sherman plays first base for the Chiefs.

Pat Lejman of Round Lake Beach is a junior at RLSHS. When he is not pitching, he plays first base and outfield.

Marc Elizondo of Round Lake Beach is a junior at Round Lake High and plays shortstop and infield.

George Lozano of Zion is a junior at Zion-Benton Twp. High School and plays right field for the Chiefs.

Steve Taylor of Grayslake is a sophomore at Grayslake

High School where he plays basketball, baseball and football. A versatile performer for the Chiefs, he plays third base, catcher, left field and pitches.

Alex Ortigosa is a sophomore at Grayslake High School. A three-sport athlete for the Rams, he plays outfield and pitches for the Chiefs.

Set ACEP classes

SportsChannel comes to U.S. Cable on Sept. 1

Just in time for the Chicago White Sox's pennant chase, regional sports network SportsChannel will be carried by US Cable of Lake County on channel 39 starting Sept. 1.

Channel 39 currently carries the Electronic Program guide which will be moved to channel 10, displacing Milwaukee public broadcasting station WMVS.

"As a distributor of television programming, US Cable of Lake County tries to provide the finest quality programming while seeking to control the retail price subscribers pay for this service," Paul L. Ashley, US Cable general manager, said.

The addition of SportsChannel will mean an additional charge of $1.50 per month starting Oct. 1 on the expanded basic tier of channels. Subsidiaries of Cablevision and the National Broadcasting Co., a subsidiary of General Electric Co., own SportsChannel. There are similar regional sport networks in New York City, New England, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Florida, Los Angeles and San Francisco. SportsChannel America is based in New York and feeds programming to the affiliates such as auto racing, talk shows, and Notre Dame football and basketball.

SportsChannel's regional office is in Oak Park where it serves Illinois, Indiana and Iowa with 1.7 million subscribers. The network is on 65 cable systems operating Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to the early morning hours and on weekends from 7 a.m. past midnight.

SportsChannel is carrying 115 Chicago White Sox games this year, 52 Chicago Bulls games plus the playoffs, and 40 Chicago Blackhawks hockey road games and the road playoff games. The channel also televises the football and basketball games of Northwestern University.

DePaul University sports and several athletic conferences including the Midwest Cities Conference are among the features. MCC teams are Loyola, Cincinnati, Butler, Detroit, Xavier and St. Louis. The Mid-Continent Universities league, consisting of Eastern Illinois, Cleveland State, and the University of Wisconsin at Green Bay, and the Missouri Valley teams are shown as well.

Non-revenue college sports and some women's activities are also televised along with Big 10 championships.

Berwanger picks NC

Larry Berwanger, a Grant High School graduate, has given an oral commitment play football this fall at North Central College.

Berwanger, a linebacker at 5-10 and 175 pounds, was a four-year letterwinner for the Bulldogs' football team. He also won letters in basketball and baseball. North Central finished at 3-6 last year and was 3-5 in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin.

Berwanger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berwanger of Ingleside.

Set hunter safety course

The Waukegan Park Dist. will offer a course in hunter safety at the Belvidere

Recreation Center, 412 Lewis Ave. The course will meet from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays, Aug. 18 and 25. Participants must attend both days and should bring a sack lunch. The course, taught by the Illinois Dept. of Conservation, is required for ages 16 and older.

Registration is being taken at the Belvidere Recreation Center. For more information call (708) 360-4701.

Attend baseball camp

Christopher Ramel of Grayslake and Bill Zandrowicz of Lake Villa have completed a two-week course of intensive baseball training at the Mickey Owen Baseball School near Miller, Mo.

Legion squad falls

losing 11-9.

After spotting Brighton a 1-0 lead in the first game, Libertyville gained the lead in the third inning. Shawn Stanek singled, Bart Nielsen doubled and Dan Esplin was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Mike Stamison's sacrifice then brought home one run and Alan Benes and Eric Stahl then delivered singles.

But errors began to be costly for Libertyville in the fifth inning. An RBI double by Jason Bertoglio made it 3-2 and Matt Buhs singled for a tie score. Shaun Watson, the winning pitcher, singled home the go-ahead run.

Libertyville gained a 4-4 tie in the fifth as Stahl tripled for his second hit of the day, scoring Benes. "I felt real comfortable at the plate," the Carmel product said after the game.

Errors began to spell the beginning of the end in the sixth. Brighton took a 7-4 lead on two errors and a walk coupled with a key RBI single by Jason Isringhausen.

Watson, who pitched Brighton to the district title three days earlier on a seven and two-thirds inning performance, seemed to improve as the game went on. "He got a couple of our good hitters. He shut us down," Stahl said.

Watson said he used his curveball and off-speed pitches more against Libertyville. "They can hit the fastball when you get this far," he said.

Summer Jam

Magic pulled away after an 11-10 lead. Colbert sank a baseline jumper for the 15th point.

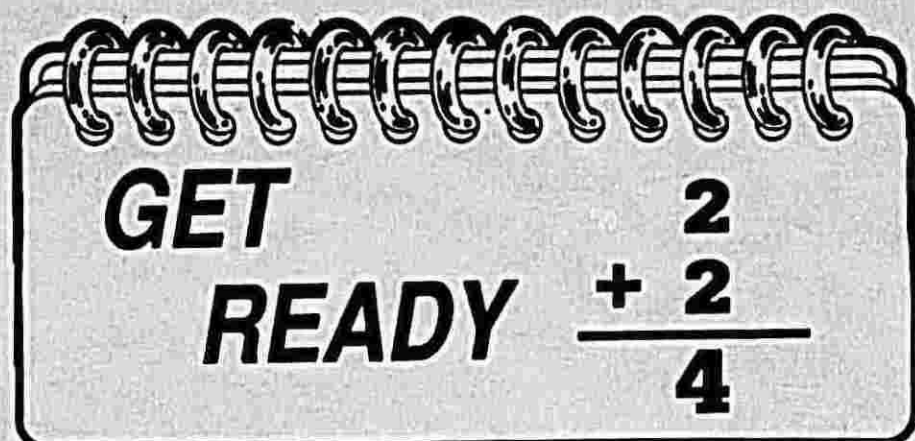

The three games were played on a side basket at CLC, and the Black Magic squad had to adjust to the smaller area. "You don't have a lot of running room," McKnight said.

For Colbert, a former University of Wisconsin player and Zion-Benton Twp. High School graduate, the tourney was a chance to return to basketball. "I enjoyed it. It is played at a lot higher level," Colbert said of his role as assistant to CLC Coach Bruce Smith.

McKnight, Statham and Horton will be back in the CLC lineup when practice commences in two months. McKnight said a goal is 100 points a game.

The trio warmed up for the Summer Jam by advancing to the semi-finals of the Chicago Bulls' Three-on-Three tourney in Chicago. "It was tough competition," Statham said.

Davis of Libertyville won the half-court shootout, while Harlan was in mid-season form in winning the three-point shot contest. Pete Ploss won the free-throw shooting competition. Each participant received a t-shirt and winners of each division won prizes.

"At CLC, I first realized I could be a scholar."

"I came from a working class family, and one of my biggest fears when I started college was that my background had left me unprepared for higher education. At CLC I realized my background was not an obstacle, and I was able to begin making choices that were previously too frightening for me. It was at CLC that I first realized I could do it."

Hardest thing to say 'no'

One of the most difficult things for parents to do is say no. When children are small, it seems easy enough to say no when they reach of a hot stove or lean precariously across an open window sill. But when they want the material pleasures other children seem to have, toys, trips, television sets, setting limits becomes more difficult indeed.

It may seem innocent enough, giving children whatever they want if one can afford it. Allowing them unlimited freedom to go where they want, stay out as late as they choose, keep whatever company they prefer, may on the surface pass for giving them independence. More often, however, it reflects the parents' fear of confrontation, their inability to communicate, and their assumption that denying their children will be compromise the development of self-esteem.

Back to School!

Get back to school on the right foot

School bells will be ringing soon. And for many parents throughout the United States, it's time to get their children off on the right foot.

In pursuit of President Bush's goal of "Building a Better America," an army of about 46 million kids will be attending classes, 17 percent for the first time, in pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and the first grade.

Foremost among the pre-school priorities for parents is the need to get their children properly immunized. The first step is to contact the local health department for immunization schedules regarding the required vaccinations, especially DTP (diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis) and polio.

Of course, preparation also includes such varied chores as purchasing school supplies and making arrangements for car pools. Not to be overlooked is the high-priority item of a wardrobe. No easy task, clothing shopping requires many hours to the proper sizes and accessories. Of utmost importance is to avoid problems with the selection of ill-fitting shoes which can deform feet and aggravate existing problems. Shoes should be at least a quarter inch to a half inch longer than the longest toe of the larger foot.

As a child's feet continue to develop, it may be necessary to change shoe and sock sizes as often as monthly to allow room for growth. Periodic consultation with your podiatric physician can help to anticipate and resolve your child's foot problems.

Back to School!

Learning should be forever

Going back to school is the most exciting time of the year in young people's lives. Instead of making new year's resolutions in January, each September they vow to get better grades, improve at sports, or make new friends. The start of the fall semester, like every advancement in life, affords the opportunity to rise a little bit in one's own esteem, to be a different person from the previous year and to change for the better.

Parents who believe that education never ends are the greatest help to their children. Many take night or weekend courses in subjects which have always interested them. Others consistently read the latest books and journals. Whether the method be formal or unstructured, the parent who looks upon learning as a lifelong pleasure is setting an example that will serve children better than any study technique.

Research shows that the best students have supportive parents who take an interest in education in general. Discipline may be necessary, but without genuine interest in education, parents reinforce the idea that school is nothing more than a special jail for the young rather than the beginning of a love affair with knowledge.

*Excludes Labor

Work could delay school

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

"We have life-safety work being completed in all of our schools," said Supt. Cliff Houghton of Round Lake Unit School Dist. 116. Houghton was responding to parent fears that school might not start on time, or might be suspended indefinitely due to the continuing work at the schools in the district.

"Right now the schools are in the ending stages of getting that work completed," said Houghton. "I would anticipate that the elementary schools and the junior high school would be 95 percent completed by the time school starts on Aug. 27."

Only the teachers are due to report to the schools on Aug. 27. Students report to their respective schools on Tuesday, Aug. 28.

"The problem we have," explained Houghton, "is that the high school may not be completed. What we anticipate doing, and I'm not sure it will be necessary, is to bring the kids in on Tuesday the 28th, and then not have any kids back until after Labor Day, which would be Tuesday, Sept. 4, in order to finish cleaning the buildings and getting them ready."

"But that's only if we need to, and, again, I'm not sure it's going to be necessary," he added.

One of the schools that had parents concerned was Ellis School. Parents had apparently heard that asbestos was found in some tile that had been removed there, and that the school was avoiding any asbestos removal, but Houghton denies that there is any problem with asbestos at Ellis.

"There was no asbestos removal involved at Ellis at all. We're just bringing the building up to compliance with life safety codes, same as everywhere else in the district. There was no asbestos involved whatsoever. Parents don't need to be concerned with Ellis at all," he said.

As for what is taking Boller Construction, of Gurnee, so long to complete the work at the high school, in particular, Houghton said, "The high school is an old building with many levels. There is extensive heating repair work to be done on that building. It takes a long time because it is a large building."

The decision to leave the schools open after Aug. 28 or to close them until Sept. 4 will be made by Aug. 24. "We're telling people now as they register," said Houghton.

"The work is being done, it's moving rapidly, and there's every likelihood that school will be in session between Aug. 28 and Sept. 4, but I've got to make plans now just in case."

Registration, Houghton commented, seems to be going well. "We've encountered no difficulties so far."

Damos named Operating Room Manager of the Year

Virginia Damos, patient care director of Victory Memorial Hospital's Surgery Dept., has been named "Operating Room Manager of the Year" by the national publication, or manager.

This highly prized award is being presented to her at the annual "Managing Today's or Suite" conference in Boston, Mass., Sept. 6 and 7. "This award speaks to Virginia's willingness to accept new challenges and to her determination to expect and accept only the highest levels of performance. This dedication has led to the development of a Surgery Dept. at Victory that not only meets our medical staff's high expectations, but exceeds them," said Timothy J. Harrington, president of Victory Hospital.

A graduate of Victory's Jane McAllister School of Nursing, Damos began her nursing career with the hospital 37 years ago. Her career in operating room management began when she transferred to Victory's Surgery Dept. in 1958. Over the years she has built the reputation of the hospital's surgery department by developing a strong staff and by planning for the addition of advanced technology and equipment.

Throughout her years at Victory, Damos has never been satisfied with the "status quo." Recognizing the advantages of new technology, Damos has been instrumental in developing the growing Laser Center within Victory's Surgery Dept.
